Boy, 11, Kills Parents, Brother With .22 Rifle

Fifth-Grader Tells Police His Family Had Picked On Him

MANSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy, aiming awkwardly because of poor eyesight, shot to death his entire family — mother, father and older brother.

He told police they picked on him and he feared he would be sent to reform school.

Fifth-grader Robert Curgenven said he killed the three late Saturday afternoon at the family's rural home, 30 miles east of Hartford. He slept in the farmhouse that night, then reported the killings to a neighbor Sunday morning.

One night last week his father spanked him because he wouldn't put out his bedroom light and go to sleep, Robert said.

Committed For Exams

After telling his story to police Sunday Robert was committed to the state hospital at Norwich for a 30-day mental examination.

Robert is built stockily buthe ha s poor sight in his right eye and wears glasses. He said he had to sight the rifle with his left eye.

He told State Police Lt. Harry Taylor he reloaded the .22 caliber rifle after every shot, carrying spare bullets between his teeth.

First he killed his brother, Richard Jr. He walked into the barn where Richard was milking a cow about 5:30 p.m.

"I'm going to shoot you," he told Richard. But he said Richard paid him no mind and snapped: "Get out of here."

Shot In Hand

When Richard resumed milking, Robert fired a shot that caught the brother in the hand. The brother flung a milking can at him and Robert fired again—hitting him in the stomach.

Robert backed out the barn door and Richard stumbled after him. Again Robert fired and again he hit him in the stomach. The brother crumpled to the ground and Robert fired the last time at his brother—a shot into the head.

Reloading, Robert went to the farmhouse where he saw his mother, Beatrice, 41, through a bedroom window. He said that when she saw him aiming the rifle she shouted something that sounded like "hey." Robert shot her dead with one shot, police said—just above the heart.

Robert said he slammed another round into the rifle chamber, and his father, Richard, 42, ran out of the house toward him. "Hi Dad," Robert said—and fired a shot that hit in the abdomen. Although wounded, the father shouted to him:

"Give me that rifle."

Robert said he loaded once more—the last time, for the next shot caught his father in the head,

Changes In GI Loans, Insurance Also Urged

Tying Veterans Pensions In With Social Security Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veterans pensions would be tied in with social security payments and gradually eliminated under a proposal offered Sunday by President Eisenhower's Commission on Veterans' Benefits.

The proposal was one of 70 made to the President in a lengthy report which, if adopted, would greatly change the benefit program now covering the nation's 22 million veterans.

Involve Many Changes

The recommended changes involve GI insurance, disability compensation, survivor benefits, widows' pensions, readjustment benefits, Veterans Administration structure, discharge benefits, GI loan privileges and servicemen's benefits.

The commission was headed by retired Gen. Omar N. Bradley and spent more than a year studying the veterans' program. Bradley formerly headed the VA.

The report did little to chart the actual impact of the recommendations it contained, but the proposals apparently would lower or cut out many of the payments now being made to veterans, servicemen and survivors.

Would Reduce Pensions

The recommendation to tie in veterans' pensions with social security, for example, would reduce some pensions since more than half of the 700,000 pensioned veterans are drawing social security payments. These, under the commission's recommendation, would be deducted from pension payments. Maximum combined payments would be $70 a month for a single veteran or $105 a month for one with a dependent wife.

The proposals are bound to stir up controversy because they conflict sharply with the benefit programs advocated by various veterans' organizations.

Arabia, Yeman, Egypt Sign Pact

Trouble Foreseen In Arabian Peninsula

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Arabian Peninsula "Land of the Tollgate Sultans" looks like the next major battleground in the cold war between the Arabs and the British.

Signing of a new military alliance Saturday by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the little desert kingdom of Yemen promises trouble in the sandy stretch of land around the rim of the Arabian Peninsula. That strip forms the last stronghold of direct British control in the entire Arab world.

Around this perimeter are numerous sheikhs and sultans who in theory are as soverign as Queen Elizabeth II but whose "independence" depends almost entirely on treaties of protection with Britain.

Not Well Defined

Their desert frontiers rarely are well defined, and the British-backed rulers recently have come increasingly into conflict with their larger neighbors to the north—Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Yemen's conflict with Britain centers mainly around the Aden protectorates — 30 "independent" states jammed into the 100-mile-width of the peninsula's southwest corner between Yemen's southern frontier and the Indian Ocean.

Some of these sultans and sheikhs live on as little as $10 a month, derived largely from the tolls they charge on camel caravans plodding through their roadless domains. The inevitable tollgate, a dirty mud-hut village and possibly a Beau Geste type fortress with mud walls often constitute the entire populated area of the sultan's domain.

British Agents Present

Lonely British agents, many of them the only Europeans in the area, act as the link between the sultans and the British government with only a few locally raised troops for protection.

From his isolated mountain kingdom where time has stood still since the Arabian Nights, Imam (Sultan) Ahmed of Yemen for years has maneuvered to end the British domination of the protectorates, which Yemen claims.

Legion Chief Warns Against Complacency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The national commander of the American Legion says Americans should guard against a "dangerous feeling of complacency" in regard to the menace of communism.

J. Addington Wanger warned: "The Communists promote the theory that because modern war has become so terrible there can be no war, and that, therefore, wee reeally have nothing to worry about.

"But I say this to you. On the day that communism becomes convinced that it can defeat the United States without being itself destroyed—on that day, war will come to the United States."

Wagner spoke at a meeting here Sunday of the Ohio State Highway Patrol Auxiliary.

Three members of the eauxiliary were honored at the meeting. They were: Edwin G. Corwin, Bellefontaine, given the Earl Ulmer meritorious service award for his rescue work after a state highway patrol car overturned while chasing a speeder; and Paul Pleasant of Kenton and William K. Wiley of Mount Vernon, given certificates of service for rescue work and first-aid.

The citations said Pleasant applied first aid to the driver of a truck which crashed and caught fire, and that Wiley and his wife rescued five persons from a burning car.

Further Amendments To Soil Bank Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today President Eisenhower can get quick congressional action on another soil bank bill "if he agrees to a few additional provisions."

Ellender, hairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview that these would include:

1. A ceiling under cotton acreage allotments at about the level of this year, 17.4 million acres, plus special protection for small cotton farmers.

2. An increase to 51 million acres in the basic commercial corn allotment eligible for price supports.

Supports For Grains

3. Some compromise system of supports for oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums, the chief livestock feed grains in addition to corn.

"These would offer a fair compromise for the vetoed bill without including mandatory rigid supports or dual parity," Ellender added.

Spruceville Man Fined For Starting Fire

LISBON James Buchanan of Spruceville, near East Liverpool was fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace Felix Butch Saturday for starting an outdoor fire without a permit.

Buchanan was arrested by W. R. Irwin Jr., district fire warden, after a fire which Buchanan started to burn brush got out of control and spread over an acre of land near his home at 11:45 a.m. Saturday.

Woman Is Fined, Jailed Here For Drunk Driving

Mrs. Mary Agnes Enoch, 38, of Leavittsburg, was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunk driving by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Sunday.

Mrs. Enoch was arrested by city police at 2:35 a.m. Sunday while driving on N. Ellsworth Ave.

2 Persons Killed, 5 Are Injured In Road Accidents

Minerva Mother Of Six Dies, Husband Hurt In Mishap

Two persons were killed and five injured in two traffic accidents on area highways during the weekend, the State Highway Patrol reported today.

Michael J. Slapnickar, 45, of Bessemer, Pa., was dead on arrival at Southside Hospital in Youngstown with a crushed chest and internal injuries following a head-on collision on Rt. 224, one - half mile east of Poland, at 12:20 a.m. Sunday.

The body was taken to the Cunningham Funeral Home in Youngstown.

According to the patrol, the victim was killed when the car he was driving collided with a vehicle operated by Blanche Garber, 32, of Youngstown. She is in good condition at Southside Hospital with contusions of the right shoulder, right arm, left eye, lacerations of the right knee and contusions of the chest.

Three Others Injured

Three other persons injured in the accident, passengers in the Garber car, were treated at the hospital and released.

They are: Myrtle Hall, 30, of Youngstown, lacerations of the left leg; Gladys Hall, 28, of Youngstown, lacerations of the chin, and Barbara Repasky, 20, of Lowellville who was X-rayed for possible fractured ribs and shoulder blade.

Both autos received heavy damages in the mishap. Details of the accident were not made available pending investigation by the highway patrol.

Mrs. Ruth Harsh Smith, 32, of Minerva died Saturday at 4:45 p.m. when a truck tractor in which she was riding, driven by her husband, Ralph E. Smith, 34, upset on Rt. 80, about one mile north of Minerva.

Tractor Hit Boulder

Deputy sheriffs reported the tractor left the road on a curve and hit an embankment and a large boulder, causing the driver to lose control of the vehicle which upset on its cab in a ditch.

A wrecker was required to lift the truck so that the body of Mrs. Smith could be removed. The body was taken to the Rutledge-Jackson Funeral Home in Minerva. The Smiths have six children.

Two minor accidents occurred in this area Sunday, the Salem State Highway Patrol reported.

Cars driven by Charles McClish, 48, of RD 4, Salem and John Lavenis, 62, of Warren received minor damages in a collision on Rt. 45, one mile north of Salem, at 11:50 a.m.

According to patrolmen, the mishap occurred when Lavenis attempted to pass the auto operated by McClish which was making a left turn.

Georgia Chamberlin, 50, of Alliance was cited for reckless operation after the automobile she was driving crashed into a guard rail on Rt. 30, three miles west of Lisbon, at 3:45 p.m. The car and the guard rail received considerable damages.

Salem Couple Hurt When Struck By Car

A Salem couple were injured at 7:53 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of E. State St. and Park Ave. when they were struck by a car, city police reported today.

Norman Butler, 65, of the Ellsworth Rd. and his wife, Nellie, 61, were reported to be in fair condition at the Central Clinic. Butler suffered a fracture of the right leg, lacerations of the scalp and abrasions of the face and left hand. His wife suffered a fracture of the right leg, abrasions of the knees and lacerations of the right hip.

According to police, the couple were struck by a car operated by Richard S. McCurdy, 20, of Kinsman while they were crossing E. State St.

McCurdy told police the couple walked fs front of his car and that he had no chance to stop the vehicle before hitting them. The driver was not held.

5 Persons Die In 2-Car Crash

Mishap Occurs Early Today Near Gallipolis

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — Two cars collided near here early today, killing all five occupants of both vehicles.

Three of the dead were in one auto and two in the other.

The state highway patrol identified the victims as:

Alfred Kerns, 22, Clifton, W. Va., and his passengers, Eugene Harley Trosper, 25, Clifton, and Kermit Edwards, 19, Rt. 1, Letart, W. Va:

John Asbury, 21, of nearby Kanauga, and his passenger, Charles Edwarl Jackson, 16, Kanauga.

Gallia County Coroner Dr. Donald R. Warehime said all five died of multiple fractures and skull fractures.

The patrol said Asbury's southbound car rounded a curve and collided with Kerns' northbound auto. Both vehicles were demolished.

Patrolmen said the accident was the worst fatal auto wreck in Gallia County history.

Salem Contestant Is No. 32

Spellers Given Positions For Finals On Friday

Linda Loop, Salem public school spelling champion, drew position No. 32 for the spelling finals at Canton Friday night when numbers for each contestant were drawn from a fishbowl in Common Pleas Court at Canton.

Linda, 13, will be one of six Columbiana County school spelling champions to take part in the Canton spelling bee Friday, the winner of which will go to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C. in May.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Loop of E. Third St., she will represent her school, the Fourth Street Junior High.

Rosalie Fisher

The largest field of contestants in the history of the Canton spelling finals will face the microphone in Timken Vocational High School at Canton Friday at 8 p.m. for the 10th annual event to determine the champion of the four-county district.

41 Contestants In All

Forty-one top spellers remain from among the more than 25,000 pupils who took part in elimination bees that started on a classroom level two months ago.

A dinner for the contestants will precede the championship spelldown.

Nancy Sims, 11, of Massillon will be the first to spell, having drawn Position No. 1.

Of the Columbiana County contestants, Richard Presutti, 11, of Wellsville drew No. 11 position; Harold Atkinson, 12, of Columbiana seventh grade, No. 19; William Macchione, 13, of Leetonia St. Patrick eighth grade, No. 23, and Rosalie Fisher, 14, of Fairview school eighth grade, county rural school champ, No. 36; and Marilyn Boley, 12, of East Liverpool, No. 20.

Position No. 41 went to Sandra Owen, 13, of Justus (Stark County).

Harold Atkinson, representing the Columbiana county exempted village schools as well as his own Columbiana school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Atkinson of

1 East Liverpool Policeman Pleads Guilty To Charges

One East Liverpool policeman pleaded guilty today to burglary charges and the six others pleaded not guilty when they were arraigned today before Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Officer Robert McBane, 33, pleaded guilty. Pleading not guilty were Officers Ira Cunningham, 50, Robert Carroll, 33, Louis Stuttler, 33, and Robert Hanna, 31, and special officer Jerry Raimond.

Special Patrolman Dallas Bishop, 38, was unable to hire an attorney, and the court appointed Atty. William Bush of Wellsville to act as his lawyer. Judge Sharp permitted Bishop to enter a not guilty plea to all charges pending consultation with his attorney.

Attorneys for the policemen accused of complicity in a number of burglaries in East Liverpool during the past three years requested that hearings be held separately and asked for a change of venue (that the trials be held in another court).

Judge Sharp set April 30 as the date the court would hear their petitions.

Others who received hearings today, and their pleas were:

James Murphy, 27, of East Palestine, bigamy, guilty. Murphy requested probation.

Twenty-six persons were scheduled to be arraigned today in front of Judge Sharp. Among them are five alleged East Liverpool gamblers who are charged with "maintaining rooms for gambling purposes."

5,604 Parking Tickets Issued Here This Year

A total of 5,604 parking tickets have been issued by city police this year, Mayor Dean B. Cranmer reported today.

Mayor Cranmer stated that about 95 per cent of the tickets have been paid due, in part, to the five cent fine if paid within the first hour and letters which have been mailed to violators who have not paid their fines.

Since the city began numbering parking tickets on June 20, 1955, a total of 14,304 tickets have been issued. During the last six months of 1955, 8,700 tickets were issued.

Girl Scouts Get $558 In City Canvass

Sixty one Girl Scouts canvassed the city Sunday afternoon to bring in a total of $558.63 for the cancer drive. Yesterday's collections increased the total amount donated in the campaign to $1,050.

Atty. Guy Mauro, local chairman, said the drive has another week to go.

Responses to the 500 letters sent out are still coming in, Mauro said, and local merchants, businesses, industries and organizations are donating. No goal has been set for the Salem campaign, but it is hoped the amount obtained will exceed $2,000.

Several areas of the city were not covered by yesterday's canvass, Mauro said. Persons who were missed and who wish to contribute are asked to mail their donations to Orein Naragon of the First National Bank, fund treasurer.

In charge of arrangements for the canvass were Mrs. James Minamyer, chairman; Mrs. James Gregg, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Al Johnston, Mrs. John McCormick, Mrs. Albert Kent, Mrs. Charles Cosma, Mrs. Paul Miller and Mrs. Carl Smith.

Sixty per cent of the funds collected in the drive are retained for local use. In 1955, 75 patients in Columbiana County received benefits through the cancer fund.

Claims Russia 1st Nation To Drop H-Bomb

Jeering Crowds Heckle Soviet Chiefs In Britain

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union will soon have "guided missiles carrying an H-bomb."

The Soviet Communist party boss also told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the Soviet Union already has exploded an H-bomb from an airplane. He claimed Russia was the first nation to do so.

"The United States only now is intending to do this," he said in a speech. "The United States' first H-bomb explosion was from a ground installation."

Then, listing the areas in which the Soviet Union can compete with the Western world, Khrushchev said:

"Guided missiles—We can compete there, too. I am quite sure we will quickly have guided missiles carrying an H-bomb."

Red Leaders Heckled

Obviously excited, Khrushchev referred to the demonstrations and warned: "Never shake your fist at a Russian."

He told the luncheon that he and Bulganin—now on a 10-day visit to Britain for high level talks—had seen placards "attacking us and Russia and we have heard the cries of many people. We have seen fists shaken at us.

"I would remind the man with the fist that attempts have been made previously to speak to us in that manner. Never shake your fist at a Russian.

"Hitler tried to attack us with a clenched fist and now he is in his grave.

"Is it now timethatwebecame more intelligent and not shake our fists at each other We have come here not to create hostility. We have come on a friendly visit at (Prime Minister) Sir Anthony Eden's invitation and we are most grateful to him for that invitation."

At another point Khrushchev attacked the Western allies' restrictions on the shipment of strategic materials to the Soviet Union.

"Do you think we are behind you" he asked.

"We do not ask you to sell us guns or warships. We will sell you some of our cruisers. They are out of date. We all know that."

He also said Andrei Tupolev—builder of the Soviet TU104 jet airliner—is now building a passenger plane which carries 170 passengers and has four engines. He did not elaborate.

After spending Saturday night at Chequers, Prime Minister Eden's country home, Khrushchev and Bulganin had tea Sunday with Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh at Windsor Castle. While the Russians balanced their cups, young Prince Charles and Princess Anne were brought in to meet them.

Like a pair of doting uncles, the visitors lavished gifts on the royal family. There was a Russian sable wrap for the Queen and two sleek Russian horses for the duke and Prince Charles. Princess Anne received a little brown bear, which was sent to the London Zoo.

A crowd of visitors gathered to watch as the Soviet leaders were whisked through the great gates of Windsor. Many cheered and the Russians waved happily.

They missed one greeting their official hosts hadn't counted on. Police at daybreak discovered this

16 Persons Die On Ohio Roads

4 Others Killed In Other Accidents

By The Associated Press

Ohio highways were loaded with deaths for weekend drivers.

An Associated Press survey from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed 16 persons killed on the state's roads. At least four others died in miscellaneous accidents.

The survey period missed by just 10 minutes from including a two-car collision that killed five men. The mishap occurred at 12:10 a. m. near Cheshire in Gallia County.

Two brothers, aged 19 and 11, died from carbon monoxide fumes in their Columbus home.

A 17-month-old Port Clinton girl drank an ounce of fuel oil and died the next day.

And a Columbus man drowned when his boat overturned in the Muskingum River. His wife said he wanted to take his two sons on the fishing trip—but fortunately they stayed home.

The list of fatalities:

Friday night:

Harold E. Sharp, 20, Kenton, while dynamiting stumps on a farm near that Hardin County town.

Saturday:

Mrs. Mary Brown, 32, Columbus, when the car in which she was riding missed a curve one-half mile north of Reynoldsburg in Franklin County.

Robert Williams, 19, a Navy man home on leave, and his brother, John, 11, of carbon monoxide fumes in their Columbus home.

Peggy Harvey, 17 months, Port Clinton, after drinking an ounce of fuel oil stored in her home.

John Maag Sr., 87, Foster, struck by a tractor-trailer in that Warren County town.

Mrs. Ruth Harsh Smith, 32, New Franklin, when the truck-tractor in which she was riding upset two miles north of Minerva on Ohio 80.

O'Neal Clifton Brown, 25, and Robert James Gossom, 31, both of Mansfield, when their motorcycle collided with a train in Mansfield. Gossom died Sunday.

William A. Phelps, 38, Columbus, drowned in the Muskingum River near McConnelsville when his boat overturned while fishing.

Daniel O'Brien, 83, Cleveland, struck by a hit-skip driver in the city, died Sunday.

Spencer J. Weema, 19, Madison, when he fell from his bicycle against a passing car in that Lake County town.

Sunday:

Karl F. Fillgrove, 32, Ironton, when thrown from his motorcycle on Ohio 123 three miles southeast of Lebanon in Warren County.

Elmer Edwards, 22, Columbus, when the auto in which he was riding overturned on a curve on U.S. 52 about seven miles east of Rome in Adams County.

Mrs. Edna Brinkman, 41, Troy, when the car in which she was riding collided with a train at a grade crossing northeast of Dayton.

Charles H. Jolley, 21, Columbus, when his car struck a concrete bridge abutment on an Athens County road about 2½ miles southeast of Nelsonville.

Michael J. Slapnichar, 45, Bessemer, Pa., in a two-car accident about one-half mile southeast of Poland (Mahoning County) on U.S. 224.

Paul J. Sokolak, 86, and Theresa Spisak, 82, both of Farrell, Pa., in a two-car accident on U.S. 62 about one mile southwest of the Pennsylvania state line in Trumbull County.

Arch Utter, 65, Laurel, whene his tractor overturned near that Clermont County town.

Ohio Company, WAC, To Be Enlisted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A civilian committee announced plans today for the formation of the "Ohio Company, Women's Army Corps, 1956."

Mrs. Howard L. Bevis, wife of the president of Ohio State University and chairwoman of the committee, said the project is the first of its kind to be tried in Ohio.

Successful applicants for the company will be sworn in late this summer in a special state ceremony before departing for basic training at the WAC center, Ft. McClellan, Ala.

Throughout basic training, the group will represent Ohio and will be the only WAC group carrying its state name to the center, Mrs. Bevis said.

Single women between the ages of 18 and 35 are eligible to enlist, providing they are high school graduates or can pass an equivalent general educational development teset given by the state board of education.

Each must provide five character references from citizens of her community and must also be a U.S. citizen or have filed intentions.

The state committee is made up of 38 members who head various women's organizations. Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, wife of Ohio's governor, is an advisory member.

Cleveland Building Damaged By Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP)—A fire which started in the basement last night shot up an elevator shaft and spread to all nine floors of the Perry-Payne Building, once the fanciest office building in downtown Cleveland.

Firemen got the blaze under control within an hour and confined the flames to the vicinity of the elevator shaft on each floor.

Acting Assistant Chief William A. Finn estimated damage today at $50,000. Origin of the blaze was not immediatetly determined.

The building, constructed by U.S. Sen. H. B. Payne at a cost of about one million dollars 67 years ago, houses a number of publishing concerns, unions and miscellaneous businesses. At one time, it was the leading office structure in Cleveland

Ike Says Russia Must Undo Stalin's Wrongs To World

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is developing its own test of the widely advertised peaceful purposes behind Russia's new look foreign policy.

The heart of the challenge as defined by President Eisenhower is that Russia's leaders should wipe out the "wrongs of Stalin" which he said still prevail against other nations. He said those wrongs include the division of Germany and Korea, the European satellite regimes and the uncertainty of peace in Asia.

Eisenhower laid out his ideas on Soviet relations in a speech before the annual dinner of the American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday night.

In an off-the-cuff addition to his prepared speech, he listed a series of what he termed "cold war victories." He said he doesn't believe anyone knows who is winning the cold war, but added that those who say the West is winning "can point to some facts rather than merely allegations."

He proposed creation of a sort of brain trust to advise the government on foreign policy—a "rotating advisory board" of private citizens, he called it.

At the same time he renewed his appeal for a long-range U.S. foreign aid program, an issue now pending before Congress. He said that as a former colonial subject of the British Empire, the United States understands and respects the views of nations more recently free and accepts "the right of each nation to choose its own path to the future."

The United States must maintain a foreign aid program "so long as freedom is threatened and armaments are not controlled," he said.

Eisenhower spoke at the conclusion of a two-week period during which he and his advisers had been reviewing Soviet policies more intensively than usual. Participating in the restudy was U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, due back in Moscow this week.

Furthermore, Eisenhower spoke at a time when Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev are visiting Britain and proclaiming the Soviet peace line.

"The future alone," he said, "can show whether the Communists really want to move toward a just and stable peace."

He noted that since the death of Stalin the men who run the Soviet Union are operating as a collective group but "dictatorship still remains."

In foreign affairs, he said, the Bulganin-Khrushchev regime apparently has cut back on "violence and hostility" and relies more on political and economic weapons.

"More basic changes in Soviet policy will have to take place before the free nations can afford to relax their vigilance," he said.

He said, "We must seek, by every peaceful means, to induce the Soviet bloc to correct existing injustices and genuinely pursue peaceful purposes in its relations with other nations," and he continued:

"Many of the wrongs of Stalin against other nations still prevail under his successors. Despite the efforts of the West at Berlin and Geneva, Germany is still divided by the Soviet veto of free all-German elections. The satellite nations of Eastern Europe are still ruled by Soviet puppets. In Asia, Korea remains divided, and stable peace has not yet been achieved. . . .

"These knotty problems will yield to patience and sincere efforts. We stand ready to explore all avenues for their just settlement. We will not grow weary in our quest for peaceful remedies for enslavement or wrongful division of once free nations."

A Soviet government dedicated to the "legitimate interests of the Soviet nation . . . can have friendly relations with the United States and the free world for the asking," Eisenhower said.

RESERVE OFFICERS ELECT

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Reserve Officers Assn. elected new officers at Sunday's session of the organization's 31st annual convention here.

Maj. Jack Janefsky was named president, and vice presidents included Col. M. R. Chambers, Marion, representing the group's Air Force component.

Many Ohio Cities Act To Curtail Or Forbid Use Of Pinball Machines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Those noisy, colorful pinball machines soon may have a legal status in Ohio —or no status at all.

Some Ohio cities have run the gaudy electronic gadgets out of town. 'Gambling devices," they have been called, "as bad if not worse than the one-armed-bandit slot machines of yore."

But many other cities have taken a milder view. True, most such cities have insisted on ironclad guarantees against gambling, but they have licensed the pinball machines and pocket a tidy sum in license fees.

Cincinnati is one such city and it was there that a lawsuit originated which may produce an Ohio Supreme Court decision on whether certain types of pinball machines are gambling devices.

Most cities, like Cincinnati, which license pinball are awaiting the court's decision with interest.

That is because the court decision, city licensing ordinances notwithstanding, could rule out pinball machines statewide. But such a sweeping ruling could come only if the court finds all pinball machines are gambling devices "per se," meaning "by (or of) itself."

A wide variety of machines fit in the pinball category. But, generally, the player deposits a coin and gets from one to five steel balls which he shoots onto the inclined playing surface with a spring - powered plunger. As the balls roll back down the incline, they hit bumpers with varied numerical values.

Some machines have manually operated "flippers" with which the player can propel the rolling ball back up the incline. The object is to hit as many bumpers as possible to get a high score.

Players can be seen writhing and twisting — "body English" is the term generally used—as they gently "jiggle" the machine to get more bumps.

But if they jiggle too hard, a flashing light proclaims what has become one of the saddest words in the pinball player's vocabulary: "TILT"

That cancels the game. To play again, the player must deposit another coin.

In order to understand the question which will be placed before the Supreme Court Wednesday, it is necessary to understand the background of the case:

Westerhaus, Inc., a Cincinnati pinball machine distributor, originally went to the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court with a test case. It asked a declaratory judgment by the court on whether its machines—which "pay off" only in free games—are gambling devices under the meaning of the Cincinnati pinball licensing ordinance.

As an incidental part of its lawsuit, Westerhaus asked an injunction barring the city from seizing 200 of its machines.

Common Pleas Judge Charles S. Bell held the machines are not gambling devices per se and granted a permanent injunction against the city's seizure of the machines.

But the city carried the case to the appellate court. The Eighth district Court, sitting by assignment in the first district, reversed Judge Bell. It held the free games awarded to high score made the machines gambling devices under the city ordinance. It also ruled they violated the Ohio constitution's perpetual ban against lotteries which reads:

"Lotteries, and the sale of lottery tickets, for any purpose whatever, shall forever be prohibited in this state."

Westerhause contends the machines are legal because their payoff is nothing of legal value. It holds the machines' performance does not jibe with the accepted formula of a gambling device: "A price, a prize and a chance."

Counsel for the city claims the machines are gambling devices because they permit high scorers free plays without additional coins. The city adds:

"The real point, as we see it, is that the owner of the machines can, entirely at his option, control the amount the machine can be 'jiggled' and thus assure the owner of the machine that the machine and not the player will win."

Westerhaus contends: "This matter is of the greatest interest to the people of Ohio as there are many cities which license pinball machines. They have a right to know which machines are legal and which are not, and this determination should be made by this (Supreme) Court."

If the high court eventually decides pinball machines which pay off only in free games do not violate the constitution's lottery ban, it will not affect three of the principal cities—Cleveland, Columbus and Toledo—which already have outlawed the machines.

Cleveland was the pioneer in 1938. Ohio's largest city prohibits the machines as gambling devices and the outcome depends on per se if they are coin-operated chance. Even adding the little flippers and other gadgets to give the player more control over the little ball's course—so far as Cleveland is concerned—will not take the machines out of the category of "a mechanical device" which is a game of chance.

Cleveland's ordinance, however, does not bar coin-operated devices which are games of skill. This allows the bowling, shuffleboard, target rifle and pool table types.

Columbus in 1954 followed Cleveland's lead with a ban on all pinball machines as "nuisances" on grounds it was too difficult for people to tell the diference between those used as gambling devices and those intended orf "amusement only."

Toledo's action is the most recent. Its ban, in fact, is not yet efective. On April 9, Toledo's city council voted to outlaw the machines after June 30 and make ownership illegal after Aug. 31.

Toledo had licensed pinball for 18 years as "amusement devices," but city oficials recently took the view this label was based on pure myth. The nearly 1,000 machines in Toledo were licensed at $175 each a year and this year revenue was expected to reach nearly $200,000 with a boost in the fee on each machine to $200.

The change in the officials' stand on pinball came after a conference held March 12 in the office of Paul Block Jr., publisher of the Toledo Blade. Civil and law enforcement officials of Toledo and Lucas County were there along with an assistant U.S. attorney and both Democratic and Republican leaders.

Block told the group an apparent resurgence of gambling activity in the city and county threatened to besmirch Toledo's reputation at the very time the community was trying to build up its port and attract new industry. It was agreed the first move should be to outlaw pinball machines. But the outlawing ordinance, introduced two weeks later, was defeated promptly on a 5-4 vote.

Strong protests followed in the editorial columns of both the Blade and the Toledo Times and in meetings of various organizations.

The pinball ban was reintroduced, a public hearing was held and it was adopted unanimously two weeks to the day after its original defeat.

On April 2, Mayor George F. McIntyre of Maumee, next door to Toledo, called for elimination of the 12 machines there.

Logan, after several years of licensing at $40 annually per machine, voted early this year to ban pinballs in the city. The new ordinance bans "exhibition or maintenance of any machine which returns one or more coins, tokens, slugs or discs, or replays."

Canton has outlawed so - called bingo-type pinball machines, but neither city nor Stark County officials have taken any action against ordinary pinball devices.

Akron lost a number of the bingo-type machines several years ago when state liquor agents cracked down and only a few private clubs in the Akron area have any left. Regular pinball machines are reported on the wane with interest declining steadily for several years. Operators in Akron reportedly favor a plan now in the works to license the regular machines to help police the "industry" and keep racketeers out.

Springfield licenses pinball, but most of the machines in that city are of the bowling type and similar. There has been little trouble since a couple of years ago when the city and state liquor department clamped down.

Marion also licenses the machines and no particular agitation against them is reported. There was a grand jury probe in the summer of 1953 followed by a recommendation for a uniform licensing system in both city and county. But Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill handed down an opinion that counties lack authority to license non-gambling pinball machines or other mechanical amusement devices. The ruling said municipalities derive their authority to license such devices from the home rule provision of the constitution. After that ruling, the city-county license system was dropped.

East Liverpool reports 161 pinball machines spread through the city under a $10-a-year license fee each. And Wellsville, close by, has 45 machines whose owners pay $100 per year per agency — regardless of the number of machines they have. Most East Liverpool machines are of the 10-cent variety. Records fail to show any arrests on gambling charges in connection with the machines.

The Warren police chief says he knows of no pinballs in the city. Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas says there are several in Trumbull County, but he takes the stand they are legal under state law because they have no payoff slots.

Niles has licensed machines, but they have no payoff slots.

Many Lima restaurants, cigar stores and newsstands have pinball, but police have received no complaints of gambling. With no arrests in more than a year, city officials believe pinball is no problem.

Washington Court House licenses machines, but shuffleboard is about the only game present. Last arrest was about 20 years ago.

Lancaster licenses pinball at $100 per year per machine with a variety of types in operation. But they're for "amusement only."

Pinball is no issue in Chillicothe. Police chief hasn't had a complaint in at least three years. A few are scattered through Ross County, but no payoffs and no complaints.

Fremont reports no problem. "Skill" machines in operation, but no gambling is reported.

Portsmouth police and the Scioto County sheriff say all machines in their areas are of the amusement-only type. Portsmouth licenses them at $10 a year each.

Ironton voted down a proposed ordinance to tax individual machines in 1942. City Solicitor Homer Edwards says operation of the machines does not conflict with the city's anti-gambling ordinance so long as there is no "pay-off" of any kind, cash or merchandise on high scores or free games.

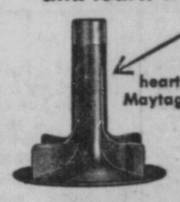

Mount Vernon officials say they are opposed to pinballs and are constantly on guard to keep them out of the city.

Steubenville and Mingo Junction license machines under city ordinances. But in Toronto, Jefferson County, Police Chief Lester P. Hinkle claims the machines are gambling devices and bars them from the city. Yorkville in Jefferson County is enacting a $25 annual coin machine license ordinance.

Buick CENTURY 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera Model 63D
Makes Friends with the Meanest Roads
(Have you tried Buick's great new ride?)
THE SWEET WAY a '56 Buick rides on all sorts of roads is something you find nowhere else on wheels.
Capricious roads that twist and turn — unruly roads that rock and roll — tired roads, battered and beaten — they all seem to wear company manners the moment a Buick approaches.
Why? Simply because Buick comes with what it takes to put any road on its best behavior — the completely ride-engineered combination of chassis, engine and automatic drive that is obtainable in no other car.
And that's gospel truth whether you drive a new SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER.
No other car matches the firm, true tracking of Buick's own ride foundation — buttressed by brawny X-braced frame and torque-tube drive — cushioned on coil springs and deep-oil shock absorbers.
No other has such width of tread and length of wheelbase within dimensions so trim and tidy that Buicks turn, park and garage more easily than smaller cars.
No other duplicates the assurance of steering, brakes and rear axle so precisely geared and gaited for the nimble handling that's a safety "must" in modern cars.
And certainly no other name plate promises the soaring sweep of power that wells from the big 322-cubic-inch V8 beneath every new Buick bonnet.
Nor does any other automatic drive put power to its car's rear wheels with the swift, unruffled pace of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* — and that goes double every time you "switch pitch" for whip-quick, safer passing.
But why stop to count reasons — when results are what you're after? Wouldn't you rather really feel Buick's new "sense of direction" on straightaway, curves and corners?
Wouldn't you rather relax in supreme comfort while tooling this powerful performer over roads you always hated to travel?
Well, sir, we cordially invite you to drop in on us and do just that.
Make it this week, won't you? Sample the ride that has charms to win any old road — and get first-hand figures on prices that make Buick owning a more positive pleasure.
*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Fear Could Be Taken Away

Nothing that has been done so far by the Communist committemen who have replaced personal dictatorship in the Soviet Union has changed the issue between Communists and anti-Communists.

But it is foolhardy to ignore the change that would occur between Communists and populations which are more anti-capitalist than anti-Communist, if the Soviet Union abandoned its hostility toward other governments.

This hostility, which former President Hoover once described as being that of a thief prowling a hotel corridor and trying all the doors to find the ones that may mave been left unlocked, has driven other governments into a defensive alliance against an international marauder.

If the new regime in the Kremlin could prove by a series of policy changes, such as dissolving the Cominform, cooperating with the United Nations to quench the war fires in the Middle East and supporting an international atomic power pool, that it had decided to take its chances on non-interference and co-existence, a profound change would occur in international relations. Fear could be taken away.

The United States, as the leader of the anti-Communist bloc, would have to switch to affirmative reasons for supporting an anti-Communist alliance. It would no longer be persuasive to argue that an alliance was imperative to keep the Communist conspiracy from taking over independent and unprotected governments by force.

This would not alter the basic issue between Communists and anti-Communists. But the truth is, the world is not divided between Communists and anti-Communists. The United States has been discovering that truth in Europe, Asia and Africa.

It is divided between people who are satisfied with the governments they have and people who are looking for something better — and not all the malcontents are looking in the same places.

The Rubbing Point

It did not take a difference between the leadership of the Teamsters Union and George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, to show the weakness of the organized labor merger.

The weakness had been shown countless times in union organizations large and small. The rubbing point in unionism is competition for membership and income. Unionism is a business as well as a doctrine.

Whether competition is limited to rival factions inside one union, or whether it takes in many unions, the leaders of the union movement are about the unlikeliest types to stay in line inside a labor trust as could be found anywhere. They became leaders because they were competitors.

The legal oddity of this situation is that the laws of the United States permit a labor trust to be attempted in order to stifle competition among union executives in the first place. No other class of executives would dare to try such a thing, which is forbidden by the Sherman Act in all other fields of business endeavor.

Even without an anti-trust law, competition would have discouraged formation of cartels and monopolies — in the United States — the same kind of competition threatening to shatter the one-big-happy-family dream of the men who merged the AFL and the CIO to keep the competitive spirit under a collective thumb.

Do Politicians Know Best?

If politicians on the other side of the fence know what they are talking about, the President's veto of a farm bill in this presidential election year is a suicidal act.

Politicians know as well as they know the size of their hats that the farm bloc now will rise up and smite down this man who has gone contrary to the rule that the way to get the farm vote is to buy it with the U.S. Treasury.

They know the Republican party's candidates will be scourged like coyotes when they raise their voices on the hustings in the 1956 campaign. They know that Dwight Eisenhower has ambushed Santa Claus on Christmas eve.

They know that every farmer and every friend of a farmer will be madder than a wet hen; that Democrats will be the only beneficiaries; that Republicans who have been sold out by the veto will never forgive the head of their party; that the veto of a farm bill in an election year is an unpardonable crime against the American way of life.

There is only one redeeming possibility.

The politicians may be wrong. By not behaving like a politician, President Eisenhower may just have clinched his re-election with all his fellow Americans who are fed to the teeth with politicians in general and their political handling of agriculture in particular. They may be a preponderant majority.

Another Dilemma

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Politics To Supplant Logic On Tax Cuts

President Eisenhower soon will find himself up against another sign-or-veto dilemma, and this time it will affect everybody and not just farmers. The politicians will be offering bills to reduce taxes, and Mr. Eisenhower probably will veto any that are passed.

Lawrence

It's true there's a surplus coming in the federal budget for the fiscal year that ends June 30 next. It will be at least 2 billion dollars instead of the forecast of about an eighth of that sum made last January in the President's message.

The Treasury has experts who can estimate on the basis of the way installment payments are coming in just what the receipts will be by June 30. Hence it is pretty well assured now that there'll be a surplus of at least two billions on the so-called ordinary budget.

In fact the "cash" budget, which is merely a tally of money received as against money to be paid out during this fascal year. will show more than 4 billion dollars surplus. The official forecast last January on the "cash" budget was about a fourth of that amount. All these estimates may turn out on the low side, as the Treasury hasn't had a chance yet to total up the income-tax payments made on Monday of this week.

THERE ARE indications that record totals soon will be announced.

With these favorable trends in the flow of money into Uncle Sam's pocketbook, the taxpayers will be asking, "Will there be a tax cut?" The politicians, particularly the Democrats, will be urging the passage of a law granting a tax reduction to persons of low income or even a percentage cut straight across-the-board.

On the surface, the figures would justify a tax cut, but to do so might actually be fiscally disadvantageous to the country. The Federal Reserve Board at the present time is trying to head off any more inflation and is restricting credit.

Tax reductions are usually voted when business isn't good and when the country needs the stimulus of private spending. If anything were to be done on tax rates, precedent argues for increases instead of decreases. This was the doctrine supported under both the New Deal of Mr. Roosevelt and the Fair Deal of Mr. Truman.

SINCE IT IS the administration's program to keep prices stabilized and the purchasing power of the dollar from going downward, the President would most certainly veto any tax-reduction bill passed in such prosperous times as the present.

But what about the politicians? They will press their measures. In the past, when one party has been in control of Congress and the other party has had its man in the White House, the custom has been to pass measures in the Senate and House which the president was expected to veto, and the political hope was that the electorate would become irritated and vote against the party in power. These bills have always been called "pop-gun" measures because their sponsors never expected them to become law but merely wanted to embarrass the administration in power.

Mr. Eisenhower, therefore, will be up against some "pop-gun" tax bills pretty soon, and even some Republican members of the House and Senate will find it difficult to vote against them. This was also the case with the farm bill. But a presidential veto of tax legislation would be a bit harder to explain to the average man, and it would take more than one television appearance by the President to do it.

THE ARGUMENTS, of course, are powerful against using the surplus for tax reduction. For one thing, the public debt in recent years hasn't been reduced and it would be a healthy thing to apply the surplus against the debt. The dollar would grow stronger all over the world and the dangers of inflation would be considerably reduced.

The trouble with a tax-reduction law is that it would add to the spending power of the present boom, start a new round of wage increases and a corresponding rise in the prices of the articles of necessity which the farmer and the city worker have to buy. It would, indeed, put the brakes on prosperity and could cause a business recession. That's why a presidential veto would seem to be certain, though it may prove embarrassing for the Republican candidates to face the electorate with the responsibility fixed on them for refusing to reduce taxes.

It's an awkward dilemma from the political viewpoint, even though from the standpoint of sound economics there is only one side to it—to use the money for debt reduction.

Earlier Part-Time Chief

It is quite apparent that Democratic leaders will persist in making attacks upon the health-preserving routine which the President's doctors have prescribed and which the President, with an honesty and frankness never equalled, described to the country.

Only last week Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler offered the following comment:

"The American public is making it clear that it does not want a part-time president. I for one, am shocked at the President going off on another golfing holiday in the midst of the Middle East war crisis."

With variations, this sort of thing may be expected from all leaders of Chairman Butler's party. It is not likely, however, that as the full truth and wisdom of protecting the President's health — in fact, any president's health — are made clear, that the American public will have any reservations. For the prescription offered for the maintenance of the President's health is simply what ought to be followed by any man of 60 or more.

In that connection, the wife of a New York physician, Richard Boies Stark, has brought to my attention a most interesting address made in 1929 by Dr. Seale Harris of Birmingham, Ala., before the Medical Society of Virginia. (The address is printed in the Virginia Medical Monthly, January, 1929.)

Dr. Harris discussed at some length the health of presidents and the measures taken to protect them against the rigors of their office. He said that when he saw and heard Woodrow Wilson in 1911, "We feared that he would not have the physical strength to live through even one term as President of the United States. The impression that Woodrow Wilson was not a strong man physically was later confirmed by information obtained. . .from confidential conversations with his physician, Adm. Grayson."

Later, after Wilson had been in the White House a year, Dr. Harris saw him again and was impressed by his "look of rugged health." Wilson told him that his well-being came from following the orders of Adm. Grayson. So Dr. Harris asked Adm. Grayson what he had prescribed. The routine prescribed was:

1. Nine hours' rest in bed at night.
2. A few minutes' physical setting-up exercise before the morning bath.
3. A carefully regulated diet, eliminating cane sugar and its products entirely.
4. One hour rest period at noon.
5. Not more than eight hours' work a day.
6. A walk or ride in the open air and sunlight every day.
7. Golf two or three afternoons a week.

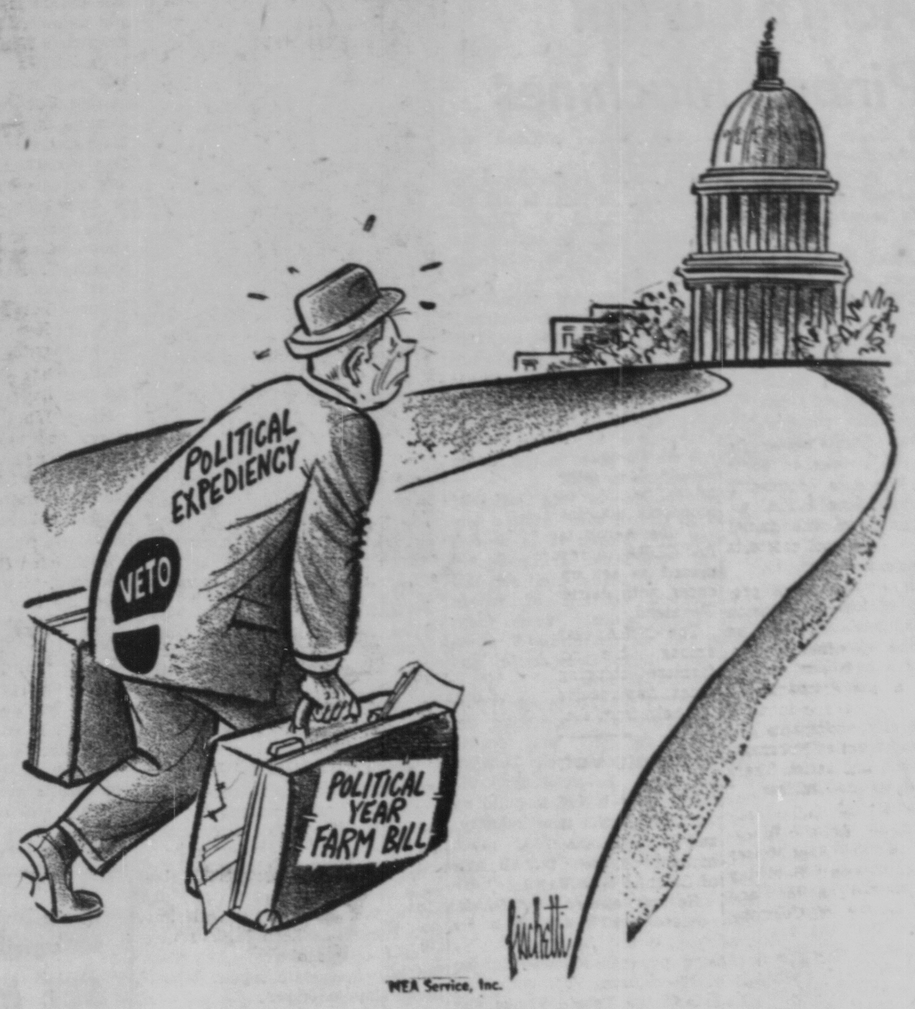

This routine thus prescribed was followed for six years until the Peace Conference and its rugged aftermath. The tragic result afterward we all know.

The question is whether the routine prescribed for the Republican President Eisenhower differs in any marked way from the precautions prescribed for the Democratic President Wilson. I fail to find any substantial difference except for the more restricted diet prescribed for Wilson and the hour's rest at noon instead of the half-hour for Eisenhower.

So far as golf is concerned, it is merely a different arrangement of time.

We may hope that when Chairman Butler gets a little older he not only will have something more important to say but will himself recognize the wisdom of preserving one's health. We fear, however, that the chairman may not live to be 60 unless he calms down.

The Road Back

Officials On The Go

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The habit is developing for heads of states, prime ministers and foreign ministers to move about like travelling salesmen. They are shown about a country; they are wined and dined; they confer and some of them get subsidies for their country. None of them ever stay in another land long enough to learn very much of the people and their habits, but on such a subject they can either be briefed by ambassadors, ministers, members of the consular service, or they can read Lee Mortimer's unbelievable book, "Around the World Confidential."

Sokolsky

On the whole, this new method of direct discussions between heads of states rather than through diplomatic channels has not proluced observable favorable results, although such things are not always currently measurable.

EISENHOWER, for instance, recently had some private talks with the top Canadians, but it is not noticeable that these talks have produced any changes in Canada's attitude on any important problem, or, for that matter, any changes in American policy where we differ from Canada. In a word, whereever there are differences, they have become accentuated during the past two or three years.

Lord Vansittart, who had a long and remarkable carrer in the British Foreign Office as the permanent undersecretary, introduced a resolution in the House of Lords recently:

"To suggest, seeing that the visit of Marshal Bulganin and Mr. Khrushchev would be unwelcome to many in this country, that wider and more authoritative use should be made of diplomacy to moderate the growing excess of diplomacy by conference and visit . . ."

HE MADE the point that his 40 years of experience gave him the impression that the practice of diplomacy by visit was being overdone. He reminded the lords that Sir Edward Grey, a great foreign minister, practiced the doctrine that the proper place for a foreign secretary was the Foreign Office, which is equivalent to saying that the proper and undoubtedly the best place for John Foster Dulles to be would be in the State Department building, as dull as that might be.

If it is impossible for the United States to hire competent men to represent us abroad so that we need to keep our secretary of state on the move all the time, then there is something very wrong about our hiring policy.

For instance, why was it necessary for Mr. Dulles to trapise all the way down to India to talk to Nehru when we have an ambassador there who can talk to Nehru and who is literate and therefore can write a report which can be read?

IT IS UNDERSTOD that Ambassador John Sherman Cooger has suggested that the best way to please Nehru is to recognize Red China. Did Mr. Dulles on his visit to India learn more than that? If he did, maybe the trip was worth while; if he did not, what will he or President Eisenhower learn from Nehru when he comes here next summer to watch the President play golf and to talk to him with some intimacy away from Washington?

Lord Vansittart also said this: "The impending visit had been conceived in the exuberance of the Geneva spirit. Much of the world had come to the conclusion that the proper receptacles for that spirit were mugs (Laughter). They remained unshaken by Marshal Bulganin's recent eulogy of the martini role. The fiascos of Geneva were boosted and built up until they produced a bad outbreak of the most dangerous malady of the modern world — the disease of impossible expectation. Slave countries considered that the west was lowering its standards by frivolous convivialities."

IT IS TO BE hoped that we shall not make the same mistake that the British made, the mistake of inviting Khrushchev and Bulganin to come to this country to show off their conquests and to display their vulgarity.

We have plenty of our own vulgarians and need not import any from anywhere. It is enough that we have all kinds of ambassadors and other kinds of diplomats, some of whom employ their extra-territorial privileges to head espionage organizations, as has during the past weeks been testified to under oath before the Senate Internal Security Committee.

This is particularly true in the testimony of Yuri Eastvorov who, having been an NKVD agent in Japan, has taken refuge in this country and is telling all.

Indecency Must Go

By TRUMAN TWILL

While pawing over some surplus clippings this morning, we came across 17 proposals for a voluntary TV production code. Its aim is to keep censorship at bay in the newest of the graphic arts.

Most of the proposals were so obvious they could be accepted without a twinge of doubt. No responsible producer should present crime as a winning proposition, poke fun at hunchbacks, pull rough stuff against religious beliefs, degrade the female sex beyond the call of dramatic license, or let sex scenarios get overripe.

But when we came to a proposal against indecent exposures and indecent movements, we began to feel sorry for the harassed producers who are going to try to beat censors to the punch.

Anyone who has lived through a fashion cycle, which is from a starting point back to a starting point, is at a loss to define indecent exposure. As for indecent movements, meaning any movement more than would be required by the basic mechanics of the body, they cannot be defined either.

There can be no doubt that television, which has put millions of viewers in touch with thousands of doers each day, has compounded the problem of guarding the public against things it shouldn't see. But the problem is not new.

About the time the first cave dweller learned to draw, he ran afoul of someone who thought he had drawn something indecent. This has been the bugaboo of all graphic arts and all graphic artists—the censorious opinions of others. Television, still new, has most of its troubles ahead of it.

All of us have had many occasions to notice since TV sets brought moving shadows into our houses that the realities behind the shadows were not hesitating to use their eye appeal. The censors—and some humans are born to be censors—have concluded that something should be done about this eye appeal.

That is where the problem begins to be tough, because once the censors are given an inch they end up by taking a mile, according to their own peculiar standards of measurements.

Their standards are not typical. They are personal, frequently ridiculous and often the reflection of mental derangement.

We have learned in five years of television to watch a stageful of shapely female dancers wriggling about like a platter of worms with a cool and calculating eye. We have seen so many shapely females on television in the last five years that we have concluded the producers are overdoing it. They're taking all the zest out of it.

We have not checked to see whether the same thought may have crossed the female mind about shapely, heart-thumping males, but we have heard snoring going on while the dancing lads were cavorting and flexing their visible muscles — and we weren't asleep.

Maybe the TV producer could shave down their production code by leaving out indecency altogether. We suspect they don't know what it is. They can find censors who know, being censors, but no two of them will agree.

So They Say

English tea bags will have better tea and they won't dangle on strings. You (British) hate American tea bags because when you put them on your saucer they look like dead mice or something. — Tetley Ironside Tetley-Jones, British tea lord, brings tea bags to England.

One feature of the mess he (former President Truman) left behind was a farm economy on the skids and a law responsible for the huge mountains of price-depressing farm surpluses. — Leonarl Hall, GOP National Chairman.

Ohio Dairymen Want To Talk Dairy Prices

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The new Ohio Dairymen's Bargaining Association wants to discuss milk prices with Akron dairy executives Friday. Many dairies are not happy over the prospect.

Leonard Utterbach, chairman of the ODBA's negotiating committe, sent letters to the executives asking for appointments at different hours. The association wants "to negotiate with you as an individual," it said in the letters, rather than with all companies together.

That strategy sidesteps the possibility that citywide negotiations might be in violating of federal monopoly statutes.

If the Akron talks are successful, ODBA representatifes are expected to set up similar conferences with dairies in Canton and Cleveland.

The ODBA, claiming a majority among the northeastern Ohio farmers shipping to the three cities, has received some organizing help from the teamsters union.

A resolution opposing an invitation to any Communist leader to visit this country was adopted by the veterans. Terming the visit of Soviet leaders Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushckev to Britain a "propaganda mission," the resolution urged that President Eisenhower prevent such a performance in the United States.

Red Poland To Free 70,000 Prisoners

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Poland's Communist government, which recently booted out two of its top purgers, says it is preparing to amnesty more than 70,000 political and criminal prisoners.

Warsaw radio said parliament is putting the final touches to a law which will authorize release of 30,000 prisoners and reduce the sentences of the others.

The amnesty will also apply to Polish refugees in the West, provided they return to their country by July 22, 1957.

REJECT VOTE FOR YOUTHS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teenagers turned down a proposal to give voting rights to 18-year-olds at the concluding session of the YMCA-sponsored "model legislature" Sunday.

It was the fourth time in five years that the mock student government rejected "bills" to lower the voting age.

Among measures passed by the 485 youngsters taking part in the session were those requiring: A photograph of the license on all drivers' licenses and semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles.

Boy Scout, Cub Scout Activities

Cub Pack 2

Awards were presented to Cub Scouts of Pack 2 at a meeting Thursday night in the Methodist Church. William Woolf, cubmaster, presided.

The ceremony was opened with a flag slute given by Herbie Silver and Bobby Tullis. Professor William Baker of Youngstown University was guest speaker.

Mrs. James Peters, new den mother, was introduced. The newly formed den is the sixth den organized and will begin its meetings May 1.

Mr. Woolf stated that next month's meeting will feature the "hobo" theme.

The advancement member, Arthur Beech, presented the following awards: Bobcat, Bobby Rosesky; wolf, Allen Phillips; silver arrow, Tony Yakubek; gold arrow and bear, Richard Moore; bear, Tom Bauman; lion, Chuckie Rheutan and Billy Shasteen.

The theme for the meeting was "Nature." Wooden birds made by Den 5 were on display. The birds were carved and painted under the direction of Mrs. Hubert Brown. Bird houses also were on display and some of the boys became members of the National Audubon Society.

A skit by Den 3 with den mothers, Mrs. Vernon Isaacs and Mrs. Gwen Bryant was presented by the following cubs: Gary Bryant, Ronnie Rich, Ken Marshall, George Barnes, Buffy Floding and Tom Marshall. Each boy chose a familiar bird and gave a short description of its habits and its call.

Attorney James Primm introduced the speaker of the evening.

Professor Baker is an authority on bird life. He told the boys how the birds manage to survive the winters here and how some migrate. He described the habits of the local birds, told how to feed and protect them and demonstrated their calls. Afterward, he conducted a question and answer period in which both the boys and their parents participated.

Serving on the social committee were Mrs. Fred Moore, Mrs. William Woolf, Mrs. Isaacs, Mrs. Nick Yakubek, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. William Winter. George Ulrich w chairman of the committee. He served the lunch with the assistance of Allen Moore and David Woolf.

The next pack meeting will be May 17 at the church. A meeting of the planning committee is scheduled for May 3, the place to be announced.

and he fell to the ground dead.

Taylor quoted Robert as saying he covered the bodies with blankets and went into the house. He ate something and went to bed about 9 p.m., but he said he didn't sleep very well. He got up at 9 a.m. Sunday.

It wasn't until 11 a.m. that he went to the home of a neighbor, John E. Powers, a placement officer at the University of Connecticut.

Powers said that at first he didn't believe the boy's story. He said he seemed quite normal and talked "in a normal way." But powers went to the farmhouse and found the three bodies.

AP Cites Record Of Factual Reporting

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of The Associated Press reported today an increasing demand at home and abroad for the "factual, objective and intelligent news reporting" of The AP.

"Your directors are confident the members, staff and management will maintain our reputation for such reporting," the directors said in their annual report.

Referring to the elections at home and tensions and struggles abroad, the directors said, "This is a year for great reporting."

The report was read at the annual meeting of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was to address the annual luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Concerning the election, the directors said "the public expects from The Associated Press strict adherence to its principles of impartial and fair reporting, playing no favorites, taking no editorial position."

"The Associated Press news report is under the alert and constant scrutiny of members whose political and economic beliefs cover every point of view, but who are united in demanding straight-down-the-middle coverage from The AP," the report said.

The directors said that in recent months these specialists "have reported political trends from 'grass roots,' given meaning to the coverage of the segregation story in the South, got first-hand reports on the Middle East crisis from both sides, battled censorship barriers and closely analyzed effects related to the desanctifying of Stalin in Soviet Russia — and told what it's like to fly over the South Pole." 7

LISBON — Richard E. Curran of East Liverpool was fined $25 and costs Sunday by Mayor Wilbur Warren on a state highway patrol charge of driving left of center.

Harry Edmiston of Grant St. was fined $25 and costs by the mayor on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was cited by village police.

Man Who Puffs On Big Cigar May Be Adult Thumb-Sucker

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The man who enjoys puffing on that big fat cigar merely is indulging in an adult version of thumb sucking.

And the same goes for the cigarette smoker and the gum chewer, said Dr. Maury Massler, head of the children's department at the University of Illinois' College of Dentistry.

Massler, speaking to the annual Oklahoma State Dental Assn. convention, urged parents to use more understanding in dealing with problems of thumb sucking and nail biting in children.

He sail every person needs some habit to relieve tension and give relaxation. "It is a method of relieving the inner tensions that build up," Massler said.

"Kids who bite nails, although it is not socially acceptable, are releasing the tension they live under," the Illinois dentist said He emphasized that it is perfectly normal.

The man who puffs contentedly on a cigar "is sucking his thumb" and the man who chews vigorously on his stogie "is a nailbiter," Massler said.

Massler claimed it was no accident that people chew gum or smoke, citing research which he said shows that gum chewing started when the typewriter was invented. The need to use both hands ruled out nail biting or hair twirling as a release for stenographers.

Egypt

Aden sultans has gone on for decades.

Recently the Yemenites have stepped up their campaign to get the British out, spurred by British plans to weld the numerous Aden protectorates into one federation. Ahmed fears that would produce a single state powerful enough to rival his own.

Ahmed also is disturbed by reports Britain has granted an oil concession on the Red Sea island of Kamaran, which Aden also claims.

In its anti-British maneuvers Yemen has tightened old bonds with Saudi Arabia, whose King Saud himself has a border feud with the British-backed rulers in Oman and the Buraimi oasis, on the southeast of the peninsula.

The Yemenite-Saudi combination scored a diplomatic victory by bringing Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser into their alliance, and Nasser in turn further strengthened his position as strong man of the Arab world.

New Waterford Alumni Plans Annual Dance

NEW WATERFORD — The annual alumni dance will be held on May 5 when music for dancing will be furnished by Bob Furney and his "All Star" combo.

The Junior-Senior Prom will be held in the New Waterford High School auditorium May 4.

The Mothers Study Club of Unity Township met at the home of Mrs. George Batchelor of East Palestine Tuesday. Home demonstration agent, Miss Polly Stohl, discussed the pleasures and problems of living with the pre-school child. Miss Stohl spent many years as a kindergarten teacher in the Cleveland area, before she became interested in extension work. The group began plans for a Crafts Day in October. The hostess for the regular May meeting will be Mrs. Omar Webber, of New Waterford and the topic will be freezing foods.

The high school band is planning to participate in the state finals Friday in Columbus.

Antique Show Here Draws Large Crowds

The second annual antique show and sale sponsored by the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs was well attended, it was reported today. The show, held over the weekend at the Memorial Building, attracted people from Ohio, New York, Indiana and West Virginia.

Mrs. Arnold Greene of E. 3rd St. and Mrs. Harold Hutcheson of Damascus Road won the special prizes. Mrs. John Kuenzli was chairman of the special prize committee.

Mrs. Arthur Schropp, chairman of the ways and means committee of the federation, was assisted by representatives of each of the 17 member clubs who arranged for homemade specialties for the buffet table and the dining room service headed by Mrs. Clifford Segesman and Mrs. Martin Lee Roth Jr.

Co-chairmen of the show were Mrs. Ned Massa and Mrs. J. J. Bogar. Mrs. Fred Koenreich and Miss Eleanor McMurray were treasurers. Other chairmen were Mrs. Chester Ping, Mrs. Irving Megrail, Mrs. F. J. Campbell, Mrs. T. A. Mercer and Mrs. Charles Wernet.

Proceeds will go toward the upkeep of the Ruth Smucker House, meeting place for the member clubs of the federation.

foot-high sign, in yellow paint, on the castle walls: "Keep the murderers out!—Don't entertain murderers!" A coat of gray paint was hurriedly applied.

As the Kremlinites hobnobbed with royalty, thousands of East European refugees marched in London and industrial Leicester in protest against the Russian visitors.

In London the men and women carried signs reading "Russians get out of Poland" and "It is Khrushchev who personally shares the responsibility for the deportation of a half million Polish citizens."

One placard said "Bulganin gave the Nazis a free hand to raze Warsaw to the ground." Some 16,000 marched to the Cenotaph, the national war memorial where the Russians placed a wreath last week.

In Leicester, 800 Ukrainians, Poles and other refugees marched.

No details of the conversation between the royal family and the Communist visitors were revealed.

Study Middle East Issue

While the Soviet bosses devoted today to public appearances, second-string diplomats of the two countries delved further into the Middle East situation and other East-West problems. Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent head of the Foreign Office, and Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, resumed secret talks at the Foreign Office.

Gromyko reportedly has hinted Russia will back proposals for strengthening the Arab-Israeli armistice advanced by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold during his current Middle East mission.

In Moscow, meanwhile, Pravda asserted that the cause of current unrest in the Middle East is not Soviet intrigue but a U.S.-British struggle for the area's oil.

Also involved in the Russian-British discussions are East-West differences on how to achieve disarmament and ways to remove trade, cultural and tourist barriers between Britain and the Soviet Union.

Bulganin told a reception at the London County Council Sunday night Russia will "welcome visits to Moscow and other parts of our country by people from London or any other part of Britain." Many parts of the Soviet Union are now closed to foreigners and Moscow generally has chosen carefully when issuing entry visas.

Ford 3-Month Profit Totals $73 Million

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. made a net profit of $73,700,000 in the first three months of 1956.

Henry Ford II, company president, said it was the second best first quarter in the company's history, being topped only by $102,500,000 in the first three months of 1955.

Ford stock was placed on public sale for the first time this year. The president said first-quarter earnings amounted to $1.37 a share, based on the average number of shares outstanding during the last three years.

Ford blamed the drop in profits in this year's first quarter to a decline in sales in the auto industry as a whole. Ford's sales totaled $1,203,100,000 but were 14.7 per cent below the first quarter of 1955.

12 Building Permits Are Issued Here

Construction begun in Salem last week was confined primarily to new garages and remodeling with an estimated valuation of $15,200, according to building permits issued by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

The twelve building permits granted last week were issued to: Walter Abrams, $500, reshingle a home at 325 S. Madison Ave.; Robert McCormick, $300, addition to a house trailer at 513 Cedar St.; R. K. Builders, $1,500, construction of a double garage at 1234 Cleveland St.; Melvin Wukotich, $2,000, concrete block garage at 776 N. Ellsworth Ave. and a $5,000 concrete block office building at 326 W. 2nd St.; and Richard Burcaw, $300, enclose a car port at 1643 Southeast Blvd.

Other permits, issued to the Dolinar Brothers construction firm were for: $400, remodeling an office at 511 E. State St.; $500, finishing an attic at 1239 E. 11th St.; $4,500, frame addition at 424 Fair St.; $1,000, enclose a porch at 614 N. Ellsworth Ave.; and $1,200, remodeling a home at 383 E. 4th St.

RD 1, Columbiana. He was defeated by his sister, Betsy, a year ago, but turned the tables this spring and outspelled her and seven other contestants.

Bill Macchione, who is a Salem News carrier in Leetonia, won the county parochial school spelling crown in a bee held in East Liverpool April 7. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Macchione, 50 Elm St., Leetonia.

Rosalie Fisher, the county rural school champion from Fairview school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fisher, RD 1, Wellsville.

The Salem spelling champion, a seventh grader, is a sister of Curtice Loop, former district champion.

Girls will heavily outnumber the boys in the finals, the score being 31 to 10. Boys always have been in the minority but always have made a good showing. One of them, Kim Calvin, then of Canton, won the national grand finals in 1949.

Five of this year's contestants have taken part in previous grand finals.

The 41 bee contestants and 2 guests each of their own choosing will be guests of the Canton Repository, Salem News and East Liverpool Review at dinner Friday at 6 p.m. in the Timken High school auditorium. Each contestant will be given a copy of the Lincoln Library during a brief program.

The bee will begin promptly at 8 p.m. and will be broadcast direct from the auditorium stage by radio station WHBC.

LIONS CLUB TO NOMINATE

Nomination of officers will be held at the regular dinner meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the Lape Hotel.

Dr. V. C. Hart will give a demonstration of an eye testing machine.

Army Clamped Ban On AP's Activities Following Kennedy's Surrender Story

By KENT COOPER
By North American Newspaper Alliance

The inconsistency of an action by which the whole world was truthfully told by the Germans of the war's end while the accounts of American reporters who witnessed the event were suppressed all but convinced Edward Kennedy that he would have to get his own story to the United States in any way possible. He did not tell other representatives of the press in Paris what he was thinking of doing.

Kennedy had no knowledge of the promise to Premier Stalin. After reflecting further for almost an hour, he sent his story by the direct military telephone to the London office of the Associated Press, which speeded it to the newspapers and radio stations, as well as to the office of the secretary of war in Washington, and the Ofice of War Information in New York.

The OWI, raising no question as to the authenticity or censorship, as spokesman for the United States government, instantly flashed the Kennedy story textually around the world. At the same time, ABSIE (American Broadcasting Station in Europe), which took its policy orders directly from Supreme Headquarters itself, broadcast the Kennedy story under a Reims dateline in several languages, at 2:46 p.m. Paris time, or 9:46 a.m. New York time, just twenty minutes after Kennedy dispatched it from Paris.

THIS BROADCAST by ABSIE could properly be taken as authoritative and as official as if Gen. Eisenhower himself had personally authorized it.

In spite of all this, Supreme Headquarters still refused to pass the stories of any of the correspondents who remained in Paris incommunicado. Instead, without notice or explanation, it clamped a ban on the Associated Press that prevented any of its correspondents in Europe from communicating with headquarters in New York or vice versa.

Not long after the ABSIE broadcast, a voicecast from Paris to American announced:

Supreme Headquarters authorizes correspondents to state that SHAEF has made nowhere any official statement for publication concerning the complete surrender of all German armed forces in Europe and that no story to that efect is authorized.

Almost at the same time, a Columbia Broadcastirg System correspondent, Edward R. Murrow, reported from London that both President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill had prepared to broadcast the official news of the German surrender at 5 p.m. London time, noon in New York, but that they were delayed because Premier Stalin, who was to speak at the same time, was not ready.

Within a few minutes after that, the Associated Press learned for the first time, from dispatches published by the International News Service and the United Press, that it had been suspended from filing news from Paris and the entire European war theater.

At 6:30 p.m. in London (1:30 p.m. in New York), the text of a message King George VI sent to Gen. Eisenhower congratulating him and his armies on the "complete and crushing victory in Europe" was passed by the British censor and transmitted for publication.

IMMEDIATELY thereafter the British Ministry of Information announced that the next day, May 8, "will be treated as V-E Day." Wrathful all day over Truman's refusal to release the news, this was the best Churchill could do to tell the British people the war was over. In Washington, the President immediately followed this with a statement that he had agreed with the London and Moscow governments to make no announcement of the surrender of enemy forces "until a simultaneous announcement can be made by the three governments. Until then there is nothing I can or will say."

As the news of the military's suspension of Associated Press activities in the entire European war theater was printed in the United States, protests reached the White House. One was from Roy W. Howard, of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, former president of the United Press.

On May 7 it became my responsibility as general manager of the Associated Press to send messages to Gen. Eisenhower at Paris and to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson in Washington.

In the early evening of May 7, after eight hours of suspension, SHAEF, in response to my message but without replying to me personally, announced in Paris that it had revoked the order suspending facilities of the Associated Press in the entire European theater except as it applied to Edward Kennedy.

The ire of the large staff of newsmen in Paris whose stories were held up because of political censorship arose to fever heat as the afternoon and night of May 7 wore on.

THE FIRST expression of their feelings which got through the censorship was received by the New York Times from Drew Middleton, its correspondent at Supreme Headquarters. It read:

My story for tonight is held up by censorship, why heaven only knows as it has already been published in New York. I have been working on it steadily for 34 hours and, like the rest of us here, except the Associated Press, have been caught in the most colossal "SNAFU" in the history of the war.

I am browned off, fed up, burnt up and put out, the story probably will be released tomorrow, which will be only 24 hours late.

A group of 54 correspondents held a meeting at Supreme Headquarters the next day, May 8, and sent a letter to Gen. Eisenhower, the last paragraph of which read:

That the Associated Press should be permitted to continue to benefit from its defiance of a solemn pledge of secrecy imposed by SHAEF on news of such importance to the world is incredible.

Two correspondents who attended the meeting refused to sign the letter on the grounds that it was action before investigation had disclosed the facts and that they were opposed to cutting off news to hundreds of newspapers and millions of readers. For all the correspondents it should be said that none knew the censor was acting on orders of President Truman. So they vented their spleen on the Associated Press.

GEN. EISENHOWER on the same day replied to this letter that "no action could be taken against a news agency or organization for the act of an individual correspondent." That same afternoon as general manager of the Associated Press I received the following message from Supreme Headquarters in Paris:

Associated Press suspended during investigation of method transmission of release unauthorized story this date unsubmitted SHAEF censorship channels. Reference your message to Gen. Eisenhower dated 7 May. Suspension filing privileges Associated Press revoked and authority now granted correspondents other than Ed Kennedy to submit material for transmission. Kennedy suspended due self - admitted deliberate violation SHAEF regulations and break of confidence. Investigation filing story by Kennedy continues and report results of findings will be communicated you as soon as practicable.

To this I promptly replied requesting that every facility be afforded to Edward Kennedy to state his case personally and transmit the report thereof to me. I also asked that the position of Supreme Headquarters be stated as respects the military security involved in connection with the story in the light of German broadcasts proclaiming the surrender. But no acknowledgment was ever received from Gen. Eisenhower.

NEXT: Panic at Supreme Headquarters over Kennedy.

WAITS SEVEN HOURS TO SEE SON — Because police refused him permission to see his son in jail, Jasper Lacy, 55, a schoolteacher, stages a seven-hour sit-down on the steps of the 77th Street police station in Los Angeles. Police explained only an attorney or bondsman could see a prisoner before he had been "processed." The son, Goodwin Knight Lacy, 19, was held on suspicion of burglary for more than a day after he was found asleep in his car. After his father finally got in to see him, he was cleared and released.

Damascus Churchwomen Entertained

DAMASCUS — Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Alton Bye when the Friendship Class of the Methodist Church was entertained by Mrs. Emil Stanley Wednesday evening.

Mrs. G. R. Morton was associate hostess. Prizes were awarded Mrs. George Stanford, Mrs. Alvin Carr and Miss Faye Pyle. Mrs. B. E. Cameron and Mrs. G. H. McDonald were in charge of the games.

Lunch was served by the hostesses with twelve present. Mrs. G. H. McDonald and Mrs. B. E. Cameron will receive the group Wednesday evening May 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mosher are the parents of a son born at the Salem City Hospital Wednesday on Mrs. Mosher's birthday anniversary.

Devotions were conducted by the host when the Fidelis Class of the Friends Church was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitcher Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stanley were associate hosts.

It was reported that the cistern top on the church grounds had been repaired. A committee was appointed composed of Donald Oswalt and Carroll Miles to work with the trustees of the church in a clean-up campaign of the church grounds.

Games were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Knag. Lunch was served by the hostesses with 27 in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stanley will receive the group May 16.

Indians Split With Detroit; Smith Out Of Lineup Tonight

Leg Ailment Puts Fielder On Bench

Colavito To Replace Him; Score To Hurl

CLEVELAND, April 23 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will be without the services of right fielder Al Smith when they go against the Chicago White Sox here tonight seeking to avenge losses to the Sox in their first two games of the season.

Smith, who has been bothered by a leg ailment all spring, was on the bench in the Tribe's second game victory over Detroit Sunday after receiving an injection in the leg during intermission. It is indefinite when he will be able to return to the lineup.

Herb Score, who pitched a two-hitter in losing 1-0 to the White Sox in Chicago last Thursday, will be on the mound for the Indians tonight. He will be opposed by Jack Harshman, who also allowed only two hits in beating him in the Windy City.

Rocky Colavito will replace Smith in right field and with Harshman, a lefthander, pitching for the Sox, Manager Al Lopez plans to lift Colavito to third in the batting order. The switch will drop Gene Woodling, a left-handed hitter, to the sixth position.

Bob Lemon pitched his first complete game since last May 30 in winning Sunday's nightcap—his first victory of the season against one loss. The 5-2 victory enabled the Indians to break even in the four-game series with the Tigers.

Detroit belted four home runs in winning the first game, 6-4, including two, good for four runs, by Al Kaline, last year's American League batting champion. Pinch hitter Wayne Belardi and Harvey Kuenn hit one apiece.

Three of the homers game in the sixth inning against Bob Feller, who had held the Tigers scoreless for the first five innings. The homers wiped out the Indians' 4-0 lead. Kaline's second homer in the seventh gave the Tigers their margin of victory. Ray Narleski, who replaced Feller in the sixth,was the victi m of Kaline's game-winning smash.

Lemon was assisted by four double plays and seven timely hits, including a first inning home run by Vic Wertz.

The Tigers scored a run in the first inning on two singles and an error, but Lemon held them in check after that until Ray Boone hit a home run into the left field stands in the ninth. The Indians scored two in the first inning, two in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Alexander 2nd In High Jump

Breaks Salem High Record At Relays

Jack Alexander of Salem, competing in the Mansfield Relays on Saturday, broke the Salem High School high jump record, which Alexander himself set at the Relays last year, with a leap of 6 feet, 5¼ inches.

However Alexander's effort was only good enough for a second place in that event, which was won by Howard Nourse of Springfield with a jump of 6 feet 6¼ inches.

The competition was much tougher this year than last, for Alexander jumped 6 feet 3 5-8 inches last year and he tied for first place, but he went almost 2 inches higher this year and finished second.

His best effort this year in dual meets was 5 feet 6 inches, but he never tried to go higher because he usually was competing in four events.

The meet was won by Pontiac, Mich., who piled up a total of 34½ points as they scored in 9 of the 18 events. Mount Lebanon, Pa., came in second, 10½ points behind the winners.

This was the first time in the history of the Relays that an out of state school finished better than third place.

Salem, Warren Harding and McDonald were the only district teams to score in the meet. The Quakers ended in a tie for 17th place on Alexander's 4 points in the high jump.

Six new records went into the books and another was tied, with Mount Lebanon posting three of the marks. Their 24 points came on four first place wins, three of which were new marks. They broke the old mile and four mile relay records and Carl Weisiger set a new time in the mile, touring the course in 4 minutes 29.5 seconds. The old record of 4 minutes 31.9 seconds was set in 1939 by Ray Jordan of Akron South.

Howard Nourse's 6 foot 6¼ inch leap in the high jump erased the old mark of 6 feet 5¼ inches which was posted in 1938.

Giants, Phils Split; Yankees Take 3 In Row From Red Sox

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Robin Roberts to win 20 games is as close to a sure thing as you get in baseball.

The Philadelphia Phillies ace has a head start toward a seventh straight year in the select circle. But he insists he never set a goal, just doing his best for the club.

He doesn't put too much stock in low-hitters either. With him a "winning game" in which he gives nine hits is a better job than a lost one-hitter.

His first .two starts this season illustrate. He barely staggered through against Brooklyn opening day, yet he won it. Sunday at Philadelphia, he needed a tight effort to beat Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter. He gave the New York Giants five hits but Antonelli threw one bad pitch—a three-run homer by Ted Kazanski—and the Phils won 3-1.

The Giants climbed on Curt Simmons, making his first start, and batted out a 9-7 edge in the second game. Willie Mays hit a three-run homer off reliefer Bob Miller in the ninth.

Don Newcombe got on the beam with a three-hitter as Brooklyn downed Pittsburgh 4-1 in a game called by rain in the seventh.

Milwaukee remained in the National League lead by slugging St. Louis 13-5 in the second game after St. Louis took the first 10-4 on an eight-run sixth-inning.

Homers by Ernie Banks, Monte Irvin and Solly Drake gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 decision over Cincinnati. Their seceond game was called by darkness, a 1-1 tie after seven innings.

The New York Yankees cooled off the Boston Red Sox, taking three in a row at Yankee Stadium to tighten their grip on the American League lead. Five Red Sox errors and homers by Don Larsen, Yogi Berra and Joe Collins added up to a 13-6 Yankee victory.

Billy Pierce of Chicago shut out Kansas City with three hits 3-0 in a quick turnabout by the White Sox, who were slugged 15-1 by the A's Saturday.

Two homers by Detroit's Al Kaline helped account for a first-game victory over Cleveland 6-4, but Bob Lemon went the route for the first time since last May 30 to give the Tribe an even break with a 5-2 verdict in the nightcap. Rookie Fred Beseana topped Washington in Baltimore's 7-3 opening victory, but Camilo Pascual earned a split for Washington with a 4-1 four-hitter in the second.

Musial Hits Grand Slam, Had Chance For 2nd In Same Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) —A man aiming for such rare goals as 3,000 hits and eight batting championships can't be expected to know when he has a chance for a National League record of two grand-slam homers in one game.

Stnley Frank Musial was one swish of the bat away from a new league mark and a tie for a major league record when he came up with the bases loaded in the seventh after his sixth inning grand slam off Milwaukee's Warren Spahn Sunday.

A lot of folks knew this, but Stan the man wasn't one of them. When newsmen asked him in the dressing room if he was trying to pull the ball over for the record when he grounded out, Musial replied:

"What record?"

The durable 35-yeaer-old team man would rather talk about the pennant chances of the young, ambitious Cardinals and their new manager, Fred Hutchinson, who "really knows his baseball."

But he'll concede there are some records he would cherish.

One is the 3,000 hit plateau achieved by only seven other players in baseball history. Another is an eighth National League batting title. Musial now has six. Honus Wagner won eight, Rogers Hornsby seven. Both are in the Hall of Fame.

Stan figures 3,000 hits is within reach because he has "three more good years including this one if I don't get hurt." He now has 2,603 hits.

But two more batting crowns "will be tough." He regards his failure to win a batting title the past three seasons as his biggest disappointment.

Mel Ott's league record of 1,071 extra base hits in his career is within easy reach of the Donora, Pa., hitting master, now at 1,024 and he's exactly 600 away from Ott's league total base standard of 5,041. Stan said he'd forgotten about that one.

Musial would like to keep alive his string of 624 consecutive games played now that it's gone this far. It's the longest among active players.

Stan already owns the best slugging percentage in league annals and his .342 lifetime average is eighth best in league history and second only to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox (.348) among active players. Musial's return to the outfield this year, after a season at first base, has helped.

Eight Records Beaten In 31st Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Eight meet or stadium records — nine if you include a special high school event — were bettered and another tied in the 31st Kansas Relays, but the big attraction was the world's two greatest shotput men, Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder.

More than 3,500 turned out early Saturday morning to watch O'Brien, of Southern California and Travis (Calif.) Air Force Base fame, and Kansas' Nieder begin their preliminary throws in the shot. O'Brien, whose official world record is 60 feet 10 inches had the best put — 60-2⅛.

Nieder, however, was credited with a new relays record of 59-1⅞. The event was a closed affair, O'Brien articipating as an added attraction. The two great athletes, only men who have ever beaten 60 feet, will meet again at the Drake Relays this weekend.

While the host Kansas Jayhawks duplicated their Texas Relays feat of winning all three weight events — shot, distance and javelin — six different university class and four college division baton teams won titles.

Texas also was awarded the two mile relay title when Iowa was disqualified after finishing first in what would have been a record of 7:40.5.

Baylor's 80-yard relay team won in meet record time of 1:24.6.

Rice won the sprint medley in 3:24; Kansas the four-mile relay in 17:44.4; Iowa the distance medley with Ted Wheeler anchoring with a 4:19.3 and Oklahoma A&M the mile relay in 3:12 with Olympic candidate J. M. Mashburn in the last leg.

Browns' Otto Graham To Give Talk To Local Youth Here

Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, will hold an open meeting for all interested youth of the community at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Salem High School auditorium where Otto Graham, Cleveland Browns grid star, will be guest speaker.

Otto Graham

The U. C. T. youth committee headed by Willis Seymour is in charge of the program. The committee stresses that all interested youth are invited to the program, and parents are also welcome to attend with their children.

Graham, making his first public appearance in Salem, will give a talk on his football experiences, will hold a brief question and answer period and will show a movie of the 1955 Browns games.

During his 10 years with the Browns Graham has established a number of quarterback records and has won various national awards for his ability and sportsmanship. He announced plans to retire from pro football a year ago but when the Browns bogged down during the training and exhibition season, he gave in and returned for another outstanding year as their leader. He has again announced his retirment, but only time will tell.

Graham is in the insurance business in Cleveland, has had his own television program, and is a talented musician, as he plays the piano, violin, cornet and French horn. He makes his home in Bay Village with his wife and three children.

Graham will also appear Wednesday night at the American Legion Home when the U.C.T. holds its 'ladies night' dinner party.

Fans Blasted For Throwing At Player

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia lost the Athletics last year and the city's fans don't deserve to have the Philadelphia Phillies either, according to New York Giants outfielder Whitey Lockman.

Lockman, the object of a beer can and bottle barrage in the ninth inning of Sunday's second game, said "I wish you'd put this in the paper. The Philadelphia fans are the worst in the world. They don't deserve major league baseball."

The barrage, the third in the past two years by Phils' patrons, broke out as the Phils were coming to bat for the last time, trailing 9-4. Lockman left the outfield to exchange his regular cap for a solid protective helmet.

The reason for the outbreak was unknown but apparently some of the fans were furious over the Phils' poor showing in the game, which they eventually lost 9-7.

Lockman, the vent for their rage, said, "I wouldn't mind getting hit by a regular bottle. But when they break the tops off and throw them at you, that's to much."

Giant Manager Bill Rigney said he was sending a letter of protest to National League President Warren Giles over the fans' behavior.

Havana — Victor Tato Menendez, 134, Cuba, outpointed Jose Arguelles, 137, Mexico, 10.

Canfield Opener Set For Saturday

Canfield Speedway's scheduled opener last Saturday night was postponed by rain so Manager Charlie Findlay has rescheduled the new cars for this Saturday night.

It will be the same program as was originally billed. Heading the card will be a 100-lap race, along with three heat duels and the Australian pursuit.

Because of the one-week delay in the opener, many other drivers will have a chance to get their cars ready to go and MARC officials expect a much larger entry list than the 35 signed for last week.

"Only 1954-55-56 models will be allowed in the race and of these at least 25 or 30 will be 1956's.

Gates to the speedway open at 6:30. Time trials start at 7 p.m. and first race gets rolling at 8:30 p.m.

Cuba's 'kids" from Camaguey, fading, 30-year-old ex-welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and Isaac (Kid) Logart, 23-year-old, up-and coming welterweight contender, are involved in important bouts this week.

Gavilan gets a return crack at undefeated young Peter Waterman of England in a 10-rounder in London's Earls Court Arena Tuesday night. Water was awarded a highly unpopular decision over the veteran Cuban in London Feb. 7.

Logart, No. 3 contenler behind Carmen Basilio and Tony DeMarco, faces jolting Joe Miceli, 27-year-old, hard-hitting New Yorker, in a radio - television 10-rounder at Syracuse, N.Y., Friday night.

Free swinging welterweights are featured on tonight's television 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. Gene Poirier, Niagara Falls, N.Y. (15-3-3) and Tex Gonzales, East Orange, N.J., (20-5-1), are the opponents. This should be a lively slugfest as far as it goes.

Du Mont will telecast at 9 p.m.

Wins Huntington Relays

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Charleston High School, capturing four first places, edged Huntington High 50 to 47½ Saturday in winning the 21st annual Huntington Relays.

Among teams behind the leaders were East Palestine, Ohio, 9 6-7, and Marietta, Ohio, 3.

Batting — Stan Musial, Cardinals — hit a single and grand slam homer in eight-run sixth-inning spurt against Milwaukee in first game as Cards won 10-4.

Salem Hunting Club Holds Rifle Shoot

Mrs. Robert Moncrief and Dave Kirby placed first in the women's and men's divisions, respectively, at the Salem Hunting Club rifle shoot Sunday afternoon at the club range.

Second place in women's competition was won by Mrs. Dave Kirby, and third place by Mrs. Harold Culler of Damascus.

In the men's division, J. Harroff placed second and Robert Moncrief was third.

Special prizes were awarded to Mrs. Kirby and Mrs. George Stowe. George Stowe won two special prizes.

Kirby placed first in a special free-for-all match, Mrs. Moncrief was second and Mrs. Kirby was third.

For the fourth consecutive month, Mr. and Mrs. Stowe received the monthly traveling trophy for the best five-shot group.

A total of 14 shooters participated in Sunday's matches. The next shoot is scheduled for May 6 at 1:30 p.m. at the club range.

1,060 Pounds Of Pike Stocked In Guilford

About 1,060 pounds of wall-eyed pike 18 to 26 inches in length were stocked in Guilford Lake Sunday at 12:30 p.m., according to State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel.

Daniel Armbruster and three assistants of the fish management department of the Division of Wildlife were in charge of the project. The next load of fish will be placed in the lake about noon Thursday, Wetzel said.

Boat landing operators and fishermen at Guilford Lake chipped in to buy two tons of pike from Lake Erie. The state is matching the purchase with two more tons and is hauling the pike from Lake Erie to Guilford free of charge.

Hollywood—Neal Rivers, 155½, Los Angeles, stopped Charles Sawyer, 151, Los Angeles, 1.

Cool Bedrooms Call For Cool Attic

How One Man Checked On Insulation

Keeping an attic cool in summer can spell the difference between comfortable sleeping rooms below or sleepless nights in an overheated house.

Harold Carlson, an electrical engineer of Scarsdale, N.Y., noticed that on summer evenings after it became pleasantly cool outdoors, the bedrooms of his house remained almost unbearably warm even with adequate ventilation. Heat seemed to radiate down from the ceiling all night long.

He checked his ventilating louvers in the attic and they seemed to meet all requirements. The radiant heat of the sun warmed his unsulated ceiling to a point where it took hours for them to cool off.

Carlson took temperature readings to find out what was happening. At 9 o'clock in the morning when the temperature outdoors was 68, the thermometer in his attic registered 71 — three degrees warmer.

By 1 p.m. the readings were 81 outside, 86 inside — up five degrees.

At 5 p.m., with the temperature outdoors at 84, Carlson's attic registered 96 — a differential of 12 degrees.

Radiation Is Blamed

On warmer days, the difference was greater. On cloudy days, much less. Carlson decided to fight the radiant heat of the sun.

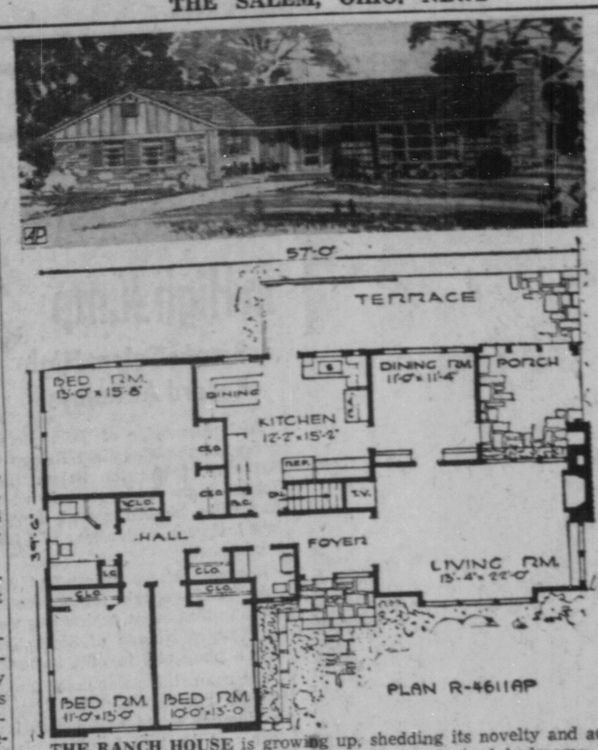

He had reflective aluminum insulation installed between the rafters, using the accordion pleated type which provides multiple reflective surfaces with air spaces locked in between.

This material, shipped folded flat, is fastened to the sides of rafters with a stapling gun. Stretched across each rafter space, it unfolds into proper proportions providing sealed air spaces about 4 inches thick between the two outer surfaces of reflective foil.

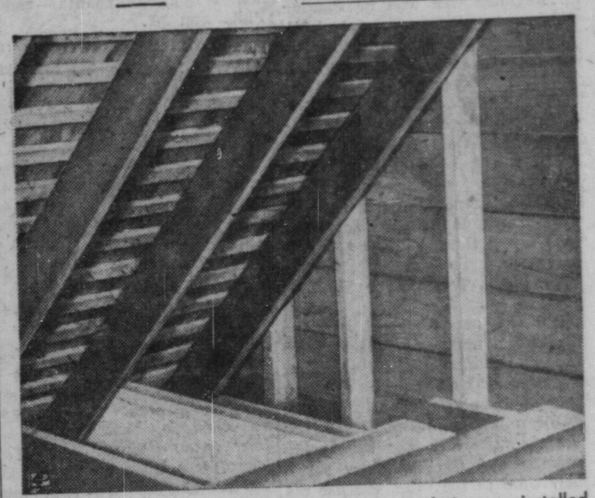

"The stuff is very easily installed," Carlson says. "It took about three hours for the whole job."

Then he resumed his temperature readings. He wanted a careful comparison. On a clear day when the temperature outdoors was 80 degrees at 1 p.m., his attic temperature was only 78 — two degrees cooler than outside! At 5 p.m. when it was 84 degrees outside, the temperature of the attic had risen to 88 — a differential of 4 degrees, instead of 12.

"The difference in comfort is remarkable," says Carlson.

THE RANCH HOUSE is growing up, shedding its novelty and adjusting to gracious living. Here are three good sized bedrooms, a big bathroom with both tub and stall shower, a powder room lavatory convenient to kitchen as well as front foyer, living room and dining room opening to porch and terrace and kitchen door to terrace. This is plan R-4611AP by Fenick A. Vogel, architect for the Archway Press, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N.Y. The house covers 1,700 square feet.

A CORNER of Carlson's attic before reflective insulation was installed and the thermometer registered 12 degrees more than in the sunlight directly outside of the attic.

INSTALLING the accordian-type insulation is easy with a stapling gun. As soon as it is fastened to the side of one rafter, the material unfolds to its proper proportions.

COMPLETED, the unfinished attic looks like this, with each space between rafters and studs filled with multiple layers of reflective foil, housing sealed air spaces for increased efficiency.

Modern Furnaces Are More Efficient

Modern forced warm air heating plants, small enough to fit into closets, are far more efficient for house heating than the enormous old fashioned furnaces that filled basements with bulky ducts.

Some modern heating plants take as little as 2¾ square feet of floor space. For maximum space saving types that carry safety approvals for "zero clearance" can be used with their sides and backs actually touching walls. These plants are fired by either gas or oil.

Another big improvement in heating plant design has been the development of small diameter ducts and high velocity circulation. These ducts, measuring only 3½ inches in diameter fit readily in standard wall spaces between the framing of 2 by 4s. They can be run between floor joists over a basement or crawl space, or can be fanned out through attic spaces to bring heat down into rooms.

Quizzing The Gardener

Q — Is it possible to use some type of chemical to kill chickweed in a strawberry patch without injury to plants?

A — The answer to chickweed in the strawberry patch is: (1) Hand pulling, (2) using Crag Herbicide No. 1 according to directions, (3) a fairly heavy straw mulch between rows about the plants.

Q — Tell me when one should prune rhododendrons. I have some very large ones which I would like to cut back so that they will not be so tall.

A — Ordinarily rhododendrons need no pruning other than the removal of an occasional straggly branch. It is possible, however, to cut them back quite hard and have them renew themselves from the lower parts of the stems and thus make straggly plants low and bushy. The cutting back should be done in April and should be followed by mulching the ground with a very rotted manure, good compost or peat moss.

Ground To Be Broken For Ohio River Dam

Similar metings got underway at Vevay, Ind. near the dam site, and at Carrollton, Ky., across the Ohio River.

Chartered buses and boats took guests to Markland, about 65 miles downriver from Cincinnati for final ceremonies.

"Ground-breaking" was a symbolic blast of dynamite fired on the Kentucky side of the river where construction is slated to start this week.

The dam is the third to be started in the last year and a half on the 981-mile-long Ohio River.

Initial work is under way on systems at New Cumberland, W. Va., and Greenup, Ky.

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) today praised the planners of the dam program.

"They had more than a sense of the immediate present," he said in a prepared spech. "it was clear that they were thinking in terms of the America of our children and our children's children."

"Long range planning is sometimes described as visionary," Bender said. "This is down-to-earth, realistic planning."

He called the dam a major step into the "unpredictable future" and "one more part of the great American drive for a better life for all our people."

The senator was here to attend the ground-breaking ceremonies.

13 INSTRUCTIONS

UNIVERSIAL TRAINING PAYS. Regardless of the subjects pursued. There's a difference in universities too, in teaching, in study, in recitation, and in training to apply what one learns. When you get on the job, here's a big difference in favor of the Penn-Ohio University trained man or woman—in salary, in understanding, in adaptability, and in ability to forge ahead on his own initiative, and not get hung on a blind alley job. Penn-Ohio University, and its Salem College, have proved all these things. Why not get into one of them now?

URGES NEGRO VOTE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negroes can get their share of American democracy only through the ballot box, Dr. Theodore R. Mason Howard, Negro physician, said Sunday.

But, said the doctor from Mound Bayou, Miss., while the State Department sends representatives to promote free elections in various countries "it seems unaware elections are not free in Mississippi." He also criticized Negroes who migrated from the South and neglected to use their right to vote.

Columbiana American Legion Members Will View Movie

COLUMBIANA — Members of Firestone American Legion Post will be entertained at their meeting at 8 p.m. today by a new two-reel sound motion picture, "Fishin' For Fun," starring Ben Hardesty, five times U.S. professional all-round bait and fly-casting champion. The business meeting will be short to permit showing of the two-hour film to begin about 8:30.

The film has been obtained from the Detroit headquarters of the Fisher Body Division of General Motors. Hardesty gives an exciting display of angling for trout, bass, bonefish, sailfish and tarpon. As a climax, he gives a dynamic display of landing a 100-pound tarpon on light, fresh-water tackle in the Shark River jungle country of southwestern Florida.

MEMBERS OF Columbiana High School Basketball squad will be guests at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Heck's restaurant at 6:30 p.m. today, when the Rev. Loy Gobrecht, superintendent of the Evangelical and Reformed Church denominational home in Pittsburgh will be the speaker. He is a brother of the Rev. W. R. Gobrecht, a former pastor of Grace church here.

High School Coach Richard Berryman, program chairman, will show a motion picture at the meeting of the Rotary Club at Valley Golf at 6:30 p.m. today. The film, entitled, "Ohio, U.S.A.," provided by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, shows places of interest in different parts of the state.

Columbiana High School mixed chorus of 100 voices will give its annual spring concert in the High School auditorium at 8 p.m. next Tuesday under the direction of Mrs. Robert Snow, High School instructor in vocal music. No seats will be reserved.

James Sitler, florist on E. Park Ave, Ext., will give a talk on flowers and show a film at a meeting of Deborah Circle of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Weber, Leipply Road, east of town.

Helen Henderson Past Matrons and Patrons Club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keller, 318 Firestone Ave., at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Fairfield Centralized High School will graduate a class of 31 at the annual commencement exercises in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 23. Rev. Charles Albright, native of East Fairfield, pastor of Mahoning Ave. Methodist Church in Youngstown, will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the auditorium at 3 p.m. the preceding Sunday, May 20. The Rev. Leonard S. Confar of Trinity Methodist Church, Youngstown, will make the commencement address.

MISS DIXIE Carlisle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carlisle, RD 5, Lisbon, will be valedictorian by reason of her scholarship record, and Miss Maryanne Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Elliott, RD 1, New Waterford, who took second honors, will be salutatorian. Others graduating with honors will be Mollie Malone, Kathleen Snyder, Joyce Bender, Maxine Rupert, Suzanne Heintzelman and Sandra Brinker.

Other members of the class are Lois Allmon, Adelaide Augustine, Beverly Bable, Orville Burbick, Walter Burt, Eugene Culler, Richard Davis, Lorena Flannery, Donna Garrod, James Gaston, Larry Kannal, Joyce Little, Thomas Lydon, Laverne McLaughlin, Herman Miller, Myrna Morrow, Joseph Pahanish, Larry Porter, Janet Seamans, Joan Wassink, Monnie Wellman, Nancy Workman and William Wright.

At a special meeting of the Fairfield - New Waterford Board of Education Thursday, "ill feeling" between Superintendent of Schools L. D. Freshcorn and a few of the teachers came to the surface, according to board officials.

Some of the teachers charged that discipline has broken down; that there is no place to go with their problems; and that some teachers are searching for connections with other schools.

Freshcorn retorted that a deliberate campaign is being waged to discredit him because he has been outspoken in his support of the consolidation, which has been a matter of controversy in the Fairfield Township section of the new district, and that there is resentment because Utterback was not given the post of executive head when the districts were merged.

President Henry Garrod of the board was directed to arrange a meeting with the county board.

Autherine Lucy Weds College Sweetheart

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A shy, nervous Autherine Lucy married her poised and smiling college sweetheart, the Rev. H. C. Foster, 27, here Sunday.

The big auditorium of the St. John Baptist Church was jammed with Negroes and a few whites who craned their necks for a view of the ceremony.

The 26-year-old Birmingham, Ala., secretary who was the first Negro to enter the University of Alabama then was expelled after a series of race riots, quietly said "I do" amid the glare of television floodlights and flash bulbs.

The Tyler, Tex., student minister's "I do" was loud and clear.

CATHOLIC YOUTH MEET

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Youth has ended a two-day meeting here. Delegates passed resolutions supporting the Legion of Decency on grading motion pictures and pledged the organization to campaign against objectionable and obscene literature.

The group Sunday also elected officers.

Leetonia

Will Vote On Proposed School

Election Scheduled To Be Held July 31

LEETONIA — The Leetonia Board of Education has secured the services of Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, to submit estimated costs for the proposed building plans of the Leetonia exempted village school district to the state board of education.

According to the local board, members are hoping to have aid from the state board in financing the proposed new elementary school.

A special election on July 31 will determine citizen opinion on the prospective school building.

The American Legion Auxiliary met Wednesday evening with 12 members present. The month of April being Pan American month, Mrs. Rosa Cox gave a report on Haiti.

During the social hour small aprons were made to be sent to all members asking for a donation. The money collected will be used for new kitchen equipment. The social committee served lunch.

A FILM, Skippy and the 3 R's" will be shown at the regular meeting of Leetonia - Washingtonville Kiwanis Club tonight in St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 6:10. Superintendent of Schools Paul C. Hayes will be program chairman.

The club will sponsor a public benefit card party in the high school Wednesday evening at 8. The proceeds will go toward aiding underprivileged children in the area.

The Leetonia High School track team will meet the East Palestine track team at East Palestine tomorrow.

The Past Matrons Club of O.E.S. will be entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Evan Lewis, with Mrs. Harry Arnold as co-hostess.

Woman Finds Everything In Her Home Stolen

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Alice Roche went home Sunday after three weeks in Massachusetts General Hospital following an operation. She found everything moveable had been stolen, including chairs, tables, electric applicances, a radio three clocks, all personal clothing and the bed clothes. Her husband has been out of town on a construction project.

Inspection Is Held By Goshen Grange

County Deputy Marcus Flickinger was in charge when Goshen Grange held its annual inspection Friday night in Goshen Grange Hall. Master Kenneth Hutcheson presided.

The third degree, under the direction of Jim Hollinger, was put on in full form and eight candidates also were obligated in the fourth degree.

Mrs. John Hrvatin, home economics chairman, gave her annual report. Announcement was made of the "good time party" to be sponsored by the youth of the grange May 9.

Announcement also was made of the contests to be held in North Lima Grange April 27. The "prince and princess" contest also will be held then.

Mrs. Richard Rhodes presented the following program: Song, "Its In My Heart," Mrs. Lester McCrea; talk, "National Farm Problems," Chester Roof; skit, "Noah and the Ark," Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnes, Harold Stitle, Mrs. William Miskimins, Mrs. Joe Herbert, Roy Hively, Dick Bryan and Harold Morrow.

The juveniles enjoyed games and contests. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Hippely and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bush.

DIES OF INJURIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert Walker Marsh, 30, Mansfield, died in Grant Hospital here Sunday of injuries received Friday in a motorcycle-car collision in Mansfield.

Democratic Chief Sees Revision In U.S. Taxes

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee, predicts the Democratic - controlled Congress will do "something in the way of a tax revision for the average man" before the current session ends.

He did not elaborat eon the "tax revision" forecast in his address Sunday night at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Butler also predicted a Democratic victory in the 1956 presidential and congressional elections "if the leaders of the Democrat party fight together and not among themselves."

How good is a job in Steel?

Steel's new expansion will create thousands of new jobs.

What kind of jobs will they be?

Steelworkers' jobs are good jobs—far above average on any basis of comparison you choose to appraise them.

Do steel jobs pay well?

Yes! Average hourly earnings in the steel industry are nearly 30 per cent higher than the average for all manufacturing workers.

The average pay received by steelworkers throughout the country exceeds $100 a week.

What about benefits?

Steelworkers have many substantial benefits, such as pensions, insurance and others.

Are jobs in steel safe?

Steelworkers are safer at work than they are at home. Accident frequency in the steel mills is only half the average for all manufacturing industries.

How about advancement?

Steel is still one of the fastest growing industries—full of opportunities for advancement for the skilled and the unskilled worker.

The wide range of wage rates, from unskilled to highly skilled work, provides a great deal of opportunity for advancement. Differentials between skilled and unskilled jobs have been maintained to provide the incentive to advance to jobs requiring higher skills at proportionately better pay.

Yes, a job in steel is a good job—well-paid, safe and interesting. Mechanical devices have reduced manual labor all along the line.
